Michael Sudarkasa is the CEO of Africa Business Group (ABG) (www.abghq.com), a South Africa based continentally active, African economic development company. Founded in 2005, ABG focuses on three key areas: 1) economic and business development consulting, 2) agriculture and renewable energy projects, and 3) capacity development in the areas of private sector development, trade and investment within Africa and between Africa and the global business community. ABG’s key sectoral areas of focus are agriculture/agribusiness and renewable energy/energy efficiency. In 2016, ABG launched the Global African Agribusiness Accelerator Platform (www.gaaap.biz) as the company’s principal capacity development initiative.