SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

1. This document is the tenth PPRU report of the Bank's monitoring of procurements by regional borrower member countries for Bank Group-funded projects. The information it contains comes primarily from contracts integrated into the Bank's SAP-PMS (Project Management System). Chapters 1 and 2 of the Report deal with analysis context and methodology while chapter 3 is devoted to a review of the 726 contracts approved by the Bank Group in 2004. Chapter 4 is based on a sample of 505 contracts with an individual value higher than UA 50,000, the cumulative value of which amounts to 99% of the total annual value of contracts approved in 2004. It should be noted that, since 1997, contracts having a total individual value in excess of UA 50,000 accounted for not less than 98% of the annual total contract value. This chapter focuses on the procurement process, procurement methods actually used and bidder participation levels. Chapter 5 considers contract financing, i.e. the time required by the procurement process, claims and contract amendments.

2. In comparing the fundamental principles of the Bank's procurement of goods, works and consultancy services on the one hand with the procurement activity procedure in the borrowing countries and their monitoring by the Operations department on the other hand, this report elicits the following main comments:

i) Economy and Efficiency: a number of successful measures were taken for economy and efficiency. In particular, these aimed at intensifying the distribution of the standard bidding documents, in both printed and electronic versions available on the Bank's website, the application of Presidential Instruction PI no. 02/98 on Procedures for the Review of Procurement Documents, the participation of contract specialists in start-up missions for new projects, their supervision and mid-term review, in addition to the regular organization of procurement workshops in regional member countries and for Bank staff. Inclusion of the four newly-recruited contract specialists to the Operations Departments (in particular for the social, agricultural and rural sector departments), should also contribute to building the Bank's capacity to supervise and process procurement.

ii) Equal Access to Contracts for All Eligible Bidders: firms of 64 countries (as against 57 in 2003) were awarded 726 contracts financed by the Bank Group. Moreover, firms of 59 member countries (40 regional and 19 non-regional) took part in the procurement process which led to the award of 505 contracts above UA 50,000 in 2004. The Bank intensified the organization of Business opportunity seminars for firms of member countries with a view to disseminating information on consultancy services and the supply of goods and works in the context of contracts financed by the Bank in regional member countries.

iii) Participation of Regional Consultants, Contractors and Suppliers: Consultants, Contractors and Suppliers registered in regional member countries won 77.1% of the overall total of contracts (if account is taken only of the number) and 54.4% of the total value of contracts approved in 2004. The corresponding figures for 2003 were respectively 76.9% and 57.5%. In general terms, the firms of regional member countries won in more contracts than those of non-regional member countries, often on their own territory (particularly in the case of supplies and works, following local competitive bidding or local shopping). Statistics show that regional firms won mainly contracts for small or average amounts, whereas the more substantial contracts went to non-regional firms. On the other hand, several international firms have set up offices in the local African environment, and their operations are considered as regional operations.

(iv) Transparency: in 2004, the Procurement Review Committee (PCR) received no admissible complaints from bidders over a decision taken within the context of projects financed by the Bank Group. This means that the great majority of complaints lodged by bidders concerned either a decision taken by the project executing agency that the Bank judged acceptable or decisions related to patently unjustified claims for which the borrowers offered explanations which satisfied both the bidders and the Bank. It should be recalled that between 2002 and 2004, the Committee received no admissible complaint. It can therefore be concluded that the principle of transparency was generally duly applied in the procurement of goods, works and services for Bank Group financed contracts.

3. Concerning the time-frame for processing procurement documents, the review focused on a larger sample in 2004 (164 cases) than in 2003 (111 cases), and there is an increase in the average time taken for processing goods and works procurement documents, up from 13.8 months in 2003 to 17.6 months in 2004. Nevertheless, the average time-frame for processing procurement documents for consultancy services dropped from 21.1 months in 2003 to 17.5 months in 2004. The average time-frame for processing procurement documents is similar for goods, works and consultancy services in 2004. On the other hand, the figures show that from 2002 to 2004 the average time required for processing the documents tended to rise, from an average of 13. 4 months in 2002 to 16.5 months in 2003 and finally to 17.5 months in 2004. In application of the steps taken by the Bank, the number of workshops for training in project implementation doubled during the period 2003-2004 while the training of Bank staff also increased during the same period. These measures also cover assistance to the countries in question for procurement capacity building, including joint World Bank and ADB preparation of CPARs or Country Procurement Assessment Reports as well as the harmonisation of procurement documents at the level of multilateral development aid institutions. The overriding goal remains the proposal to decentralise and delegate authority to regional offices so as to bring the decision–making process closer to borrowers. Finally, in collaboration with the International Harmonisation Programme, in 2004 the Bank started to revise its rules and procedures for the procurement of goods, work and consultancy services so as to facilitate the flow of the procurement process, harmonise the rules and procedures with those of similar multilateral development institutions while taking into account the vital needs of Regional Member Countries. This exercise is scheduled for completion in 2005.

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1 The purpose of this tenth Annual Report on the Procurement of Goods, Works and Services, compiled by the PPRU Unit, is to inform Management and Boards of Directors of the Bank's contract award operations, by means of a statistical study for the year 2004.

1.2 The report comprises the following key sections: analysis of procurement methods used by Bank borrowers, geographic distribution of the bidders and the contract winners. The study also focuses on the breakdown of the contracts awarded by size and procurement method used, the procurement dossier processing timeframe, complaints and amendments to contracts approved in 2004.

1.3 SAP-PMS[1] (Projects Management System), generated data based on information from the Operations Departments as contracts were being approved.

1.4 This database showed that 726[2] contracts were approved in 2004, 505 of which were for amounts of more than UA 50,000. These account for 99% of the total value of the contracts or 70% of their number. While the number of contracts approved by the Bank had dropped slightly (726 in 2004 against 784 in 2003), their cumulative value actually increased by 15%, rising from UA 362 million in 2003 to 417 million in 2004.

1.5 In many respects, this report provides analyses of the major trends underlying the award of goods, works and consultancy services by comparing the key variables for 2002, 2003 and 2004, such as total contract amount and breakdown in the total contract volume by amount, market share trend between the regional and non-regional countries and the frequency of use of the various procurement methods.

[1] SAP is the integrated data-processing system used by the Bank since 2001

[2] The statistics which served for drawing up this report were extracted from the SAP-PMS system on 15 April 2005. It is worth mentioning that at that time some contracts already approved and signed in 2004 had still not been incorporated into the system.

2. METHODOLOGY

2.1 The study covers contracts approved in 2004 within the context of Bank-funded projects. Yet, the overall sample does not take into account amendments to procurement contracts (dealt with separately in paragraph 5.5) or contracts awarded on non-project loan resources (lines of credit, structural and sectoral adjustment programmes).

2.2 As in previous reports, the approach used consisted in preparing:

▪ Statistics based on all 726 contracts approved in 2004 or procurement data which provide general information on the unit amounts, contract winners' nationalities and contract source of finance.

▪ Statistics for contract award process management (procurement methods, bids, and document processing time-frames), prepared from contracts worth more than UA 50,000, for which detailed data concerning the procedure for their award has been obtained.

2.3 An analysis of the data helped to determine the contract sample size above UA 50,000 or 505 contracts worth a total of UA 412 million. The value of that sample amounts to 99% of all contracts approved in 2004 and 70% of their number. From 2002 to 2004, contracts with an individual value of over UA 50,000 correspond to least 98% of the total value of the contracts for the year (Table 1)

3. STATISTICS ON THE 2004 PROCUREMENT PERFORMANCE

3.1. Contract Size

3.1.1. The number of contracts (based on information from SAP), dropped further between 2003 (784 contracts) and 2004 (726 contracts); the total contract value rose from UA 362 to 417 million (a 15% increase). The average size of the contracts also rose by 24%, from UA 462 272 in 2003 to 574 160 in 2004. In addition, the maximum contract value recorded for 2004 was UA 37 56 million as against UA 17 16 million in 2003.

3.1.2. The average size of goods contracts rose slightly in 2004, reaching UA 270 159 as against UA 255 338 in 2003, or a 30% increase. The services contracts also registered a similar slight increase over 2003 (from 227 996 to 119 842). [Table 2]

Average Size by Type of Contract

Average size (UA)	2002	2003	2004

Consultancy Contracts	236 194	227 996	229 842
Total contracts	425 923	462 272	574 160

3.1.3. In comparison with the preceding years, the proportion of small size contracts (under UA 50,000) fell in 2004. In 2004, intermediate sizes (UA 50,000-100,000), (UA 100,000-250,000) and (250,000-500,000) the proportions recorded were very similar to those for 2003. For all three years, between 50 and 54.5% of the contracts are of a value lower than UA 100,000 (Table 3 and Graph 1). In 2004, two works contracts worth respectively UA 20-35 million and 35-50 million deserve attention. Lastly, the largest contract registered was a construction works contract worth UA 37.56 million, awarded to a South African firm in Swaziland.

3.1.4. The contract value distribution for small size contracts (below UA 50,000) also fell over the last three years: 2.12% in 2002, 1.66% in 2003 and 1.22% in 2004. Generally speaking, for 2004 the cumulative values of contracts worth less than UA 15 million are lower than those for the previous years (Table 4 and Graph 2).

3.1.5. The largest portion of the total contract value for 2002-2004 is between UA 1-5 million, in the proportion of: 2004:32%; 2003: 38.7%; 2002: 28% (Table 4 and Graph 2).

3.1.6. From 2002 to 2004, the cumulative distribution of the number of contracts for goods and services is almost identical (Graph 3). In the case of the works contracts, the most significant tranches for 2004 are the intermediate tranches with 17% for the UA 50,000-100,000 tranche, 20% for the UA 100,000-250,000 tranche and 17% for the UA 250,000-500,000 tranche (Graph 4). In the case of the services contracts, distribution in number in the UA 25,000-50,000 and UA 50,000-100,000 tranches, is slightly lower than those for 2003 and 2002 (Graph 5).

3.1.7. The contract number is still dominated by goods (45%, 42% and 39% in 2002, 2003 and 2004 respectively), followed by works (31%, 31% and 33%) and lastly by services (24%, 27% and 28%) [Graph 6].

3.1.8. An analysis of the breakdown of the total contract amount by procurement method shows that generally goods and works collectively account for 86 and 88% of the total contract value from 2002 to 2004. A review of the period suggests that the works contracts amounts predominated in 2002, 2003 and 2004, with respective percentages of 59%, 64% and 70%. As was to be expected, the consultancy contracts are the smallest in terms of value, accounting respectively for 13% in 2002, 13% in 2003 and 11% in 2004 (Graph 7).

3.2. Contract Distribution Between Regional[3] and Non-regional Firms

3.2.1. The distribution of contracts between regional and non-regional firms in 2004 was as follows: 22.73% of the number for non-regional firms as against 77.13% for regional firms, and 0.14% for multinationals[4]. From 2002 to 2004, the shares in number of contracts for regional firms increased steadily, up from 76.3% in 2002 to 76.91% in 2003, reaching 77.13% in 2004. Figures for non-regional firms remained stable at 23.5% in 2002, 22.96% in 2003 and 22.73% in 2004. The share of multinationals is still rather marginal (Table 5 and Graph 8).

Multinationals	0.2%	0.13%	0.14%
Total	100%	100%	100%

Graph 8

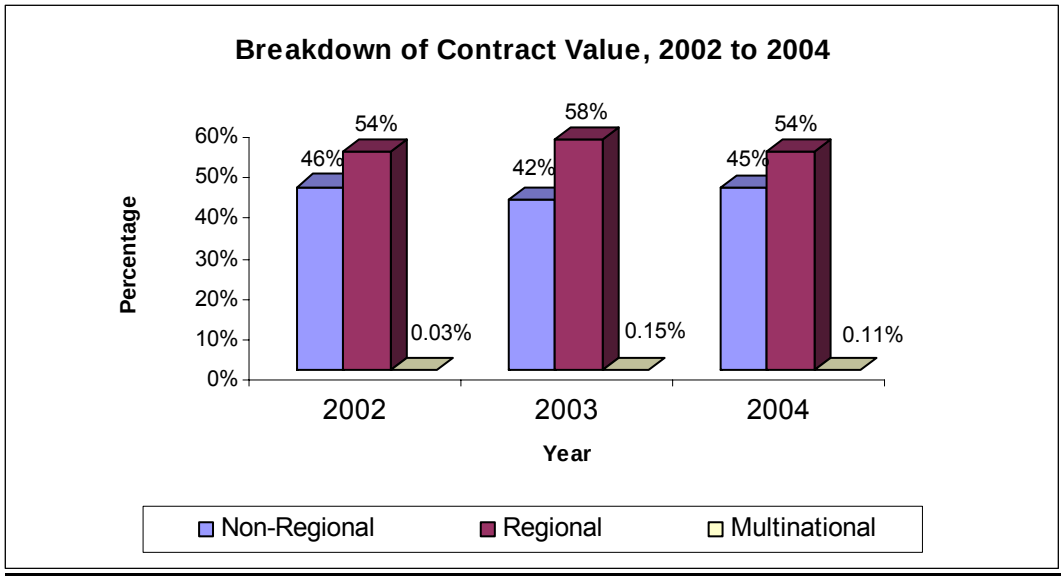

3.2.2. In terms of value, non-regional firms account for 45.47% of the total contract amount against 54.42% for the regional firms and 0.11% for multinationals. There was a slight drop in the share of regional firms (from 57.51% in 2003 to 54.42% in 2004) and an equivalent rise in the share of non-regional firms (from 42.33% in 2003 to 45.47% in 2004). The multinational share is still very small accounting for 0.11% in 2004 (Table 6 and Graph 9).

[3] A significant number of non-regional companies held shares in regional ones.
[4] The term “multinational” normally refers to UN agencies (IAPSO, UNICEF, etc.)

3.3. Trend of Bank Disbursements from 1994 to 2004

3.3.1. The total volume of Bank Group disbursements rose appreciably in 2004, from UA 1023 million to 1316 million.

3.3.2. This rise reflects the virtual doubling of the disbursement volume in the ADF window, which rose from UA 368 million in 2003 to 681 million in 2004, (or a rise of 87%). On the other hand, the volume of disbursements from the ADB window fell slightly, from UA 652 million to 630 million (or a reduction of 3%). Disbursements from the Nigeria Trust Fund (NTF) also doubled in volume, rising from UA 2.4 million to UA 4.8 million (Graph 10).

4. CHARACTERISTICS OF THE PROCUREMENT PROCESS

4.1. Introduction

4.1.1. In a concern to make the data processed relevant, only contracts above UA 50,000 were subject to statistical analysis in this chapter. The present sample contains 505 contracts amounting to UA 412 million, or 99% of the total value of contracts awarded in 2004. This contract sample is the subject of this chapter.

4.2. Procurement Methods

4.2.1. Regarding the number of contracts by procurement method, 181 were awarded through international competitive bidding (or 35.8%), 182 contracts through local competitive bidding (or 36%), and 94 through short lists (18.6%) [Table7].

4.2.2. In terms of contract amounts, International Competitive Bidding (ICB) was used to award an amount representing 65.8% of the total amount covered by the 2004 financial year; the rate for 2003 was 65.8%. National Competitive Bidding (NCB) accounted for 15% of the total contract value in 2004, compared with 17% in 2003. Lastly, short lists represented 9% of the total contract value in 2004 (as against 11.2% in 2003). These three main procurement methods totalled 95% of the overall contract value of the contracts reviewed in 2004 (as against 94% in 2003), while the remaining 5% covered other procurement methods including 2% of negotiated contracts (Table 8).

4.2.3. In terms of number, international competitive bidding (ICB) represented 35.8% of the total number of contracts (35% in 2003) with 19.2% for goods contracts (19.8% in 2003), 14.5% for works contracts (14.6% in 2003) and 2% for services contracts (0.6% in 2003). National competitive bidding (NCB) represented 36% of the total number of contracts (31.1% in 2003) with 8.1% for goods (8.9% in 2003) and 27.7% for works (21.9% in 2003). Lastly, short lists represented 18.6% (18.3% in 2003), with 0.8% for goods (1.3% in 2003) and 17.6% for services (17% in 2003). Other procurement methods accounted for 9.5% of the total number of contracts (15.6% in 2003) (Table 9).

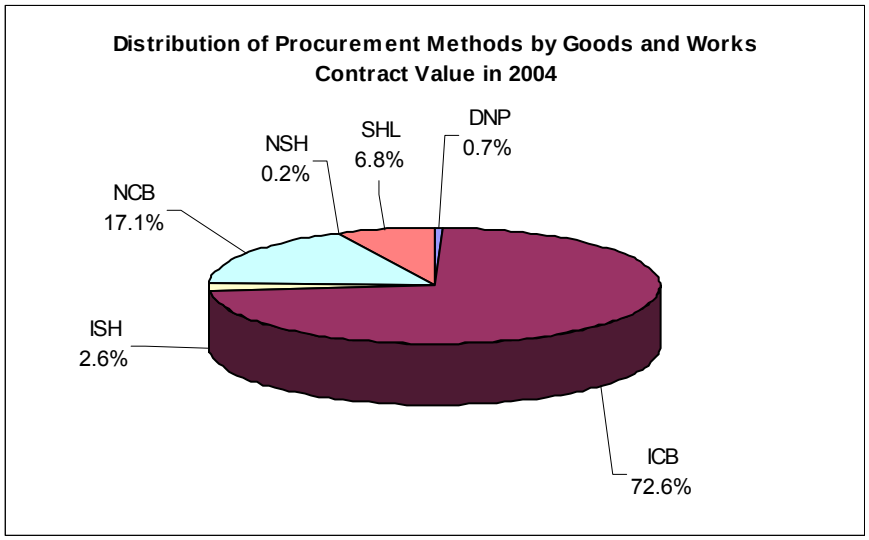

4.2.4. In value, international competitive bidding (ICB) represented 72% of the total volume of contracts (65.8% in 2003) with 15.5% for goods contracts (17.9% in 2003), 55.1% for works contracts (47.4% in 2003). National competitive bidding (NCB) represented 9% of the total contract amount (17% in 2003) with 1.1% for goods (2.5% in 2003) and 14% for works (14.4% in 2003). Lastly, short lists represented 9% (11.2% in 2003) with less than 1% for goods, 8.4% for services (10.7% in 2003). The other procurement methods accounted for 4.4% of the total contract value (6% in 2003) (Table 9).

4.2.5. International competitive bidding (ICB) and national competitive bidding (NCB) were used mainly for the procurement of goods and works with a total of 89.7% in value (94% in 2003). (Graph 11). The short lists for the selection of international consultants and for national/regional consultants predominate for consultancy services with 88.2% in value (89% in 2003). (Graph 12).

[6] According to Bank regulations recruitment consultants should be recruited on the basis of competition bases on short lists. Some project manangers enter into the SAP, the ICB, LIC or NCB as procurement methods for consultancy services but in the final analysis short lists are always establised. On the above graph, the (SHL) (short list) method was used in an overall manner.

4.3. Bid Participation [7]

4.3.1. This section deals with the bid amounts[8], their number and bid information received. In 2004, 1,118 bids were received for the 726 contracts approved, in other words, an average of 1.53 bids per contract. The 1,118 bids were from 706 separate bidders. 662 bidders had taken part in 540 contracts in 2003 (an average of 1.23 bids per contract).

4.3.2. Firms in regional member countries presented slightly more than three times as many bids as their non-regional counterparts, or 77.5% against 22.3% of the total number of bids (Table 10). In terms of value, and with reference to 2003, the share of regional firms fell from 70.0% to 64.8%, in favour of that of non-regional firms which rose from 29.9% to 35.1%. The share in the value of multinational bids is still very marginal.

4.3.3. In terms of the nationalities of firms taking part in the competition (Graph 13), bidders from Tunisia take the lead with 20%, followed by China (9%) and Tanzania, South Africa and France with 7% each of the total bid value. In 2003, Tunisia led the way (39%) followed by France and South Africa with 5% each. In 2004 they are followed by Mozambique, Burkina Faso and Germany accounting for 6%, 5% and 4% respectively.

4.3.4. In terms of the number of bids, the following countries stand out: Tunisia (18.6%), France (5.9%) and Mozambique (5.2%).

4.3.5. Regarding bid value for participation in international competitive bidding (Graph 14), the following countries take the lead: Tunisia (22%),China 11%), South Africa (10%), la Tanzania (9%), France (8%), Burkina Faso (5%) and Germany (5%).

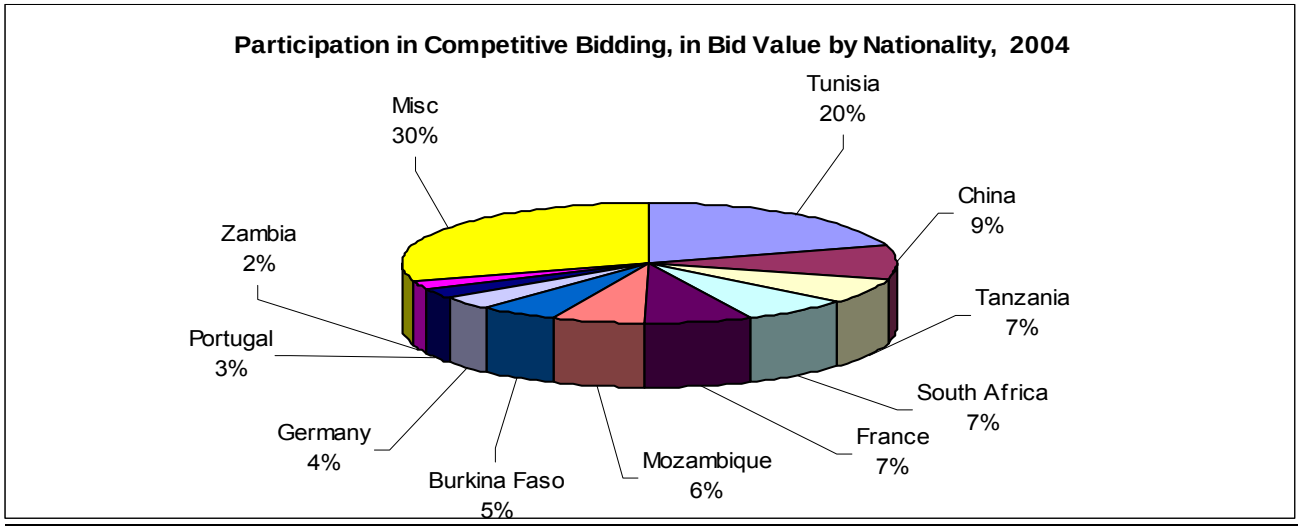

4.3.6. As for the bid value in national competitive bidding, Tunisian bidders took the lead (39%) followed by Ethiopia (8%), and Mozambique (8%) (v. Graph 15).

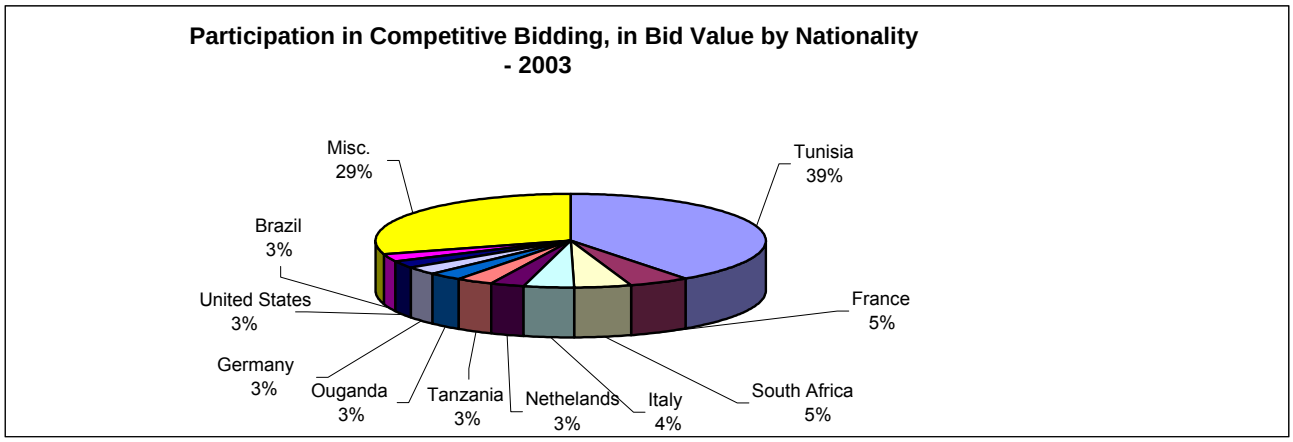

[7] The information on which this analysis is based is incomplete because in a number of cases only the awardees are listed in the project management system, not all bidders in the competition.

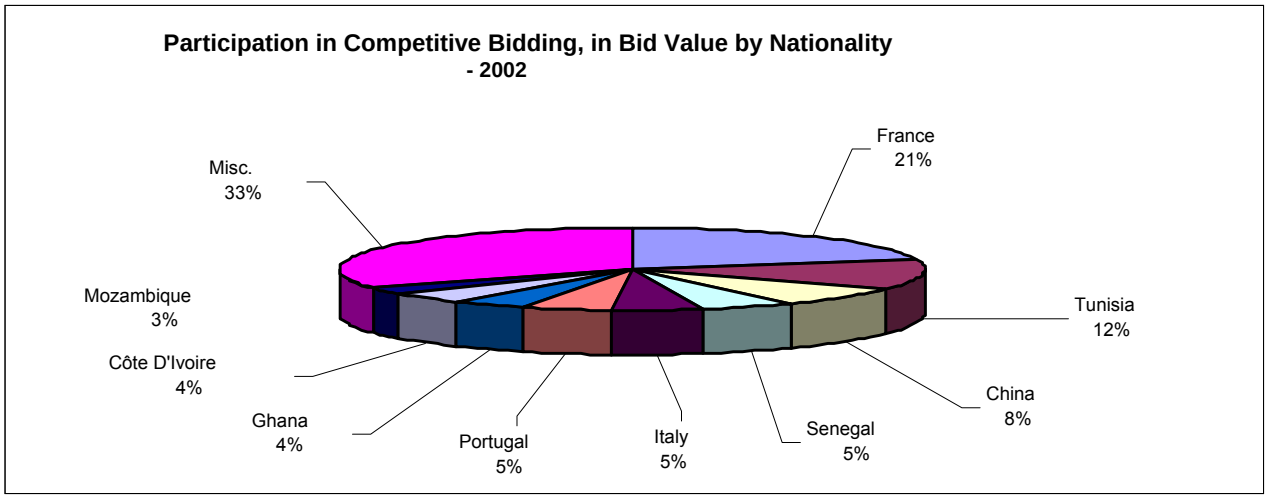

[8] The total bid amountrepresents the total number of contracts in competition for which the bidders registered in a given country took part in the bidding. This variable is used to calculate the bid value of a country.

4.3.7. For contracts awarded through international short lists in bid value, bidders from Mozambique took the lead with 40%, followed by the Canadians (12%), French (6%), Niger (5%) and the Nigerians (5%) (Graph 16).

4.4. Nationality of Contract Winners

4.4.1. An analysis by nationality of the distribution of contract winners for the 505 contracts in 2004 reveals that contracts by value were principally awarded to firms from China (18%), Tunisia (10%), South Africa (9%) and Mozambique (8%) (v. Graph 17). China registered a very sharp increase, from 4% in 2003 to 18% in 2004 whereas Tunisia's share dropped from 16% to 10%.

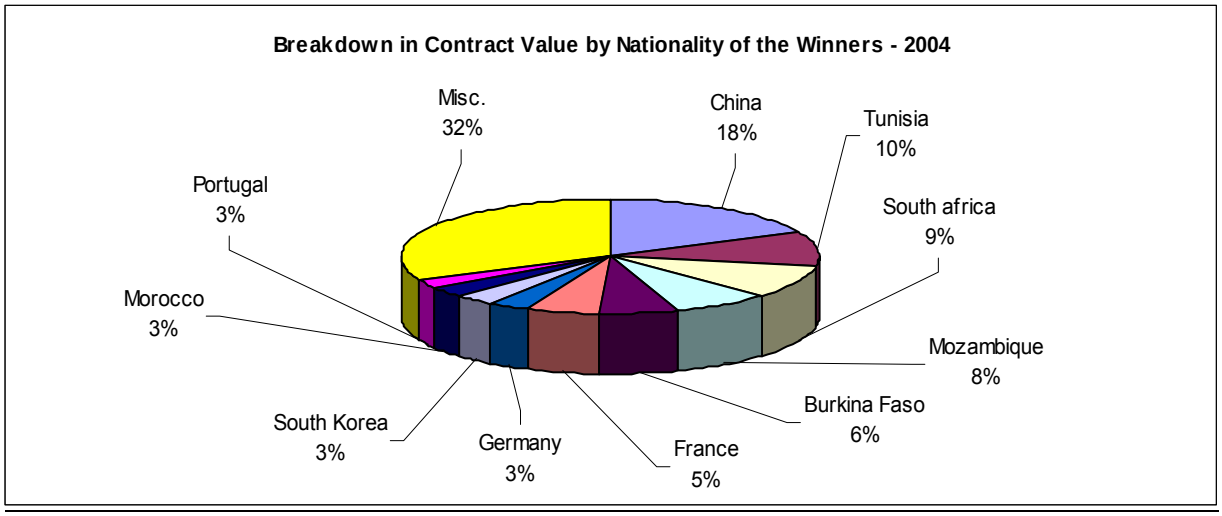

4.4.2. Tunisia won the largest number of contracts in 2004 (12%), as was the case in 2003 when the county had won 16% of the contract value for 14% of their number. Tunisia was followed by France with 6% of the number of contracts, Burkina Faso, Ethiopia and Tanzania, each accounting for 5%. In 2003, France and South Africa followed Tunisia with 7% each. Finally, China obtained 18% of the total contract value as against only 2.6% of the total number.

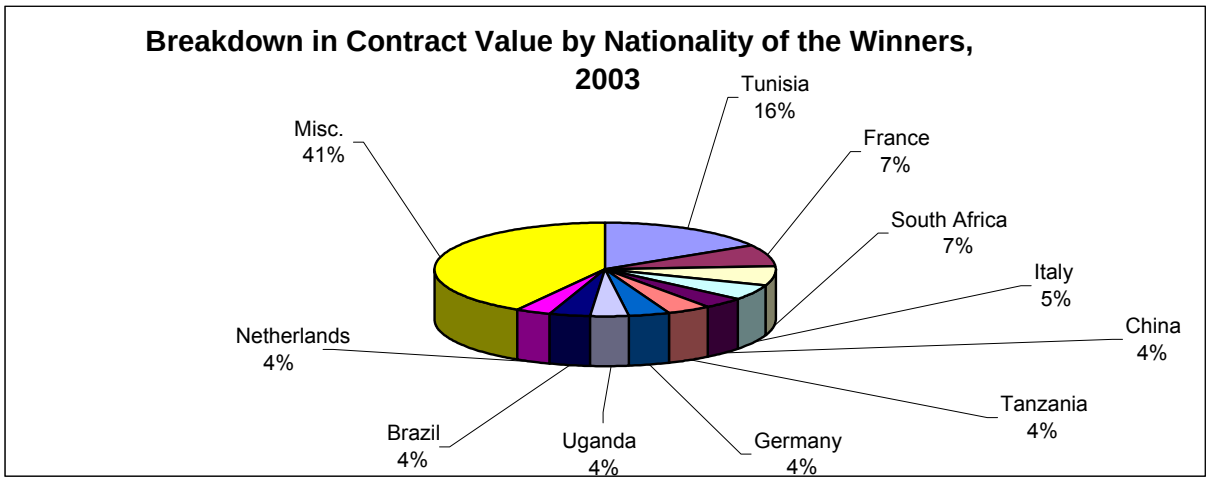

4.4.3. Goods Contracts: concerning the value of goods contracts in 2004, France takes the lead with 17% followed by Italy (12%), Germany (10%), Morocco (9%), Switzerland (8%), the United Kingdom (7%) and Tunisia (6%) (Graph 18). In 2003, Nigeria (14%), the USA (12%) and France (12%) were in the lead.

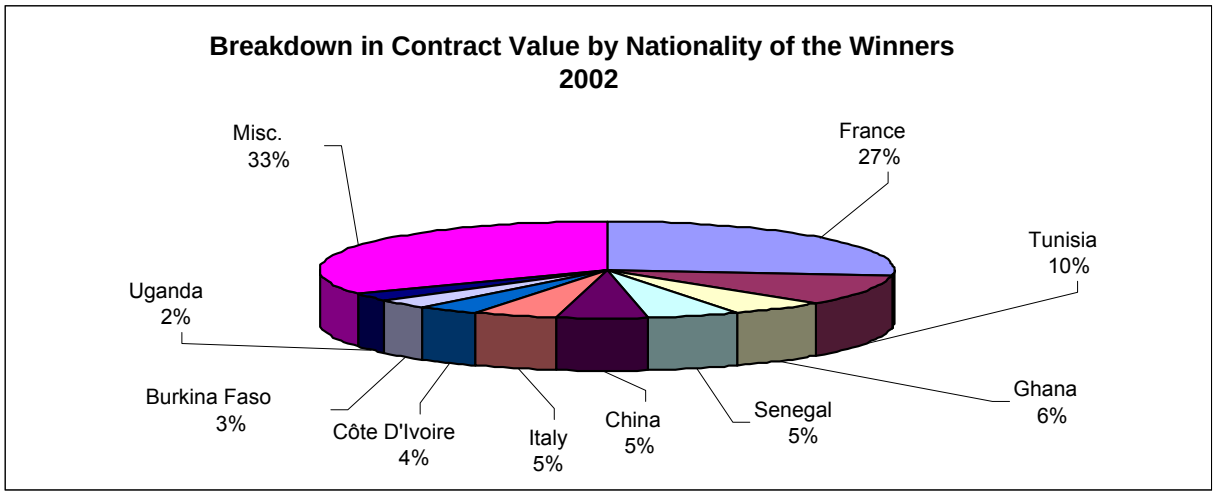

4.4.4. Works Contracts: in terms of works contract value, China and South Africa were in the lead with 25% and 13%, followed by Tunisia (12%), Mozambique (10%), Tanzania (8%) and Burkina Faso (8%) (Graph 19). In 2003, the lead was held buy Tunisia (23%), South Africa (10%) and Italy (7%).

4.4.5. Consultancy Services Contracts: consulting firms from Canada, France and Nigeria respectively won 19%, 14% and 7% of the consultancy services contracts in 2004. They are followed by the United Kingdom (5%), Mozambique (4%), Burkina Faso (4%) and Ghana (4%). In 2003, Canada (21%) was already in the lead, followed by Germany (19%) and France (11%) (v. Graph 20).

5. OTHER PROCUREMENT ASPECTS

5.1. Contract Financing

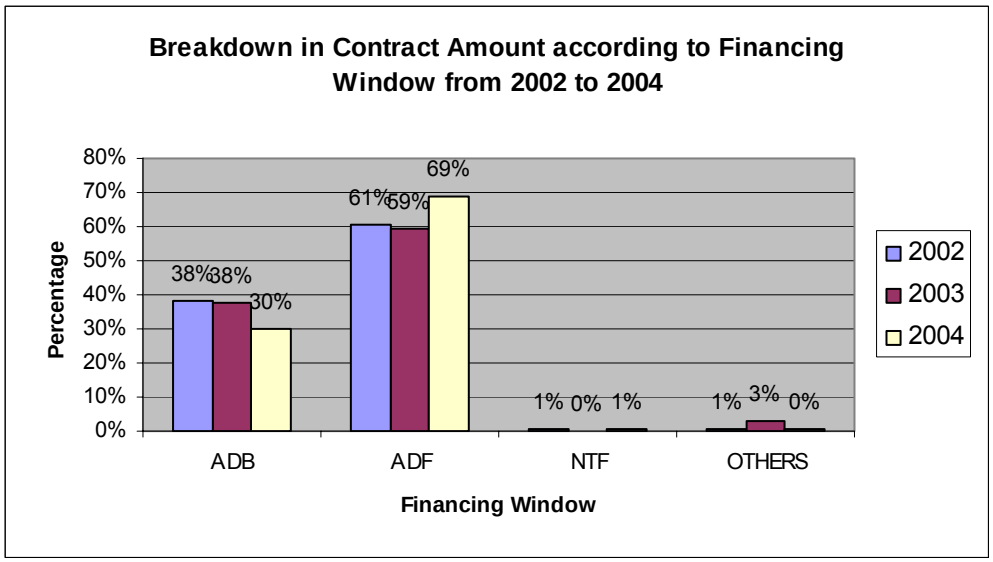

5.1.1. In contract financing terms, the ADF (African Development Fund) window's share rose appreciably from 59.27% in 2003 to 68.91% in 2004. The ADB (African Development Bank)'s share for its part dropped from 38.1% in 2002 to 37.56% in 2003 and then to 30.10% in 2004. The weight of the NTF (Nigeria Trust Fund) window is still marginal: it financed 0.5% of the contract value in 2003 and 0.67% in 2004.

5.1.2. In terms of the number of contracts, the ADB window financed 14.46%, in 2004 compared with 18.88% in 2003 and 21.90% in 2002. The ADF window accounted for up to 84.57% in 2004 against. 78.8% in 2003 and 76.50% in 2002. (Table 11 and Graph 22).

5.2. Procurement Document Processing Time-frame

5.2.1. The time-frames for processing procurement documents (at borrowing country and Bank levels) were analysed using a sample of 164 contracts in 2004, compared with 111 contracts in 2003, or an increase of 48% in the sampling size. In terms of proportion, the 111 contracts processed in 2003 represent 14% of the annual total, while in 2004, the sample represented 23% of all contracts.

5.2.2. During the procurement of goods and works by executing agencies in the context of Bank Group-financed projects in 2004, statistics show the process takes an average of 17.6 months from initial receipt of the procurement documents to receipt of the signed contracts. This general average overshadows the average variations of the different regions ranging from a maximum of 20.2 months for the North Region to a minimum of 14.5 months in the West. To be more specific, the average time required from receipt of the bidding documents up to their approval by the Bank is one month. Between this approval by the Bank and receipt of the bids by the borrowers, there is an average lapse of 5.3 months, (this was 3.2 months in 2003). It takes an average of three days from receipt of bids to opening of bids; from opening of bids to approval of contracts takes 6.9 months; from contract approval to contract signature the timeframe is 2.8 months. Furthermore, the average timeframe between signature of the contract by the executing agency and the Bank's receipt of the signed contract is 1.5 months (Table 12).

5.2.3. The procurement of consultancy services by borrowers in 2004 took an average of 17.5 months from initial reception of request for proposals and the Bank's reception of the final contract. (Table 13). This still very high timeframe of 21 months in 2003, can be explained by the fact that 6.4 months or 37% of the period is lost between the initial opening of bids by borrowers and approval of the evaluation by the Bank. It must be recalled that consultancy services require a submission of technical and financial proposals in separate envelopes and that there are two stages to the evaluation. In accordance with Article 3.8.11 of the Rules of Procedure for the Use of Consultants, each stage may require Bank approval which takes time. Measures must be taken by the Operations Department to reduce this timeframe which averages between a minimum of 9.8 months in the South region and a maximum of 28.7 months in the East region. Generally, this means that it takes on average: (i) 2.6 months for the borrowers to obtain approval of the Bank's request for proposals against 1 month for the goods and works procurement documents; (ii) 3 months between the processing of these approved documents and the reception of the proposals, against 5.3 months in the case of goods and works; (iii) 7 days between receipt and opening of bids against 3 days in the case of goods and works; (iv) 6.4 months from opening of bids to approval of evaluations; (v) 1.7 months between approval of evaluations and signature of the contracts (2.8 in the case of goods and works); (vi) 3.5 months from signature of the contracts to reception of the signed contracts (but 1.5 months for goods and works).

5.2.4. For the procurement of goods, works and consultancy services, the average timeframe between reception of the bidding documents and that of the signed contracts was 17.5 months as against 16.5 months in 2003 and 13.8 months in 2002. The increase in this timeframe was partly due not only to time lost opening the bids, and finalisation and approval of the evaluations but also to the fact that the data provided was often incomplete. (Table 14).

5.3. Complaints

5.3.1. In 2004, seven (7) complaints were officially registered by the Bank, compared with four (4) in 2003, or an increase of 57%. This rise can be explained mainly by the fact that most of bidders have now integrated into their strategy the use of due process systems available under the procedures. This trend demonstrates the progress achieved in terms of transparency and greater confidence of the participants in the procurement process.

5.3.2. Of these seven complaints, 4 occurred before the Bank's no-objection to the award phase or in 57% of the cases (75% in 2003); 3 complaints were made after the Bank's no-objection to the award phase or 43% of the cases (25% in 2003).

5.3.3. Most of these complaints (4) were made at the bid evaluation phase and were judged inadmissible. In fact, the arguments and explanations advanced by the Borrowers to justify their decisions were in accordance with Bank rules.

5.3.4. Two (2) complaints registered related to a conflict of interest. One involved the drawing up of a shortlist at the close of the prequalification procedure. The complaints were judged admissible and, in both cases, the Borrower observed the Bank's recommendations and took the necessary corrective measures.

5.4 Procurement Review Committee (PRC)

5.4.1. Two complaints concerned Bank recommendations after contract award. However, they were only examined by the Procurement Review Committee in (PRC) early 2005. In both cases, they were pronounced inadmissible.

5.4.2. In 2004, the PRC did not examine any admissible complaint from bidders against a decision taken within the framework of projects financed by the Bank Group

5.5 Contract Amendments[9]

Introduction

5.5.1. In 2004, the Bank approved 99 amendments for total of UA 16.7 million (compared with the 65 amendments which amounted to UA 19.7 million in 2003). These amendments are subdivided into two groups: those for contracts approved in 2004 (6 amendments) and those for contracts approved prior to 2003 (totalling 93).

Amendments for contracts approved in 2004

5.5.2. The 6 amendments to contracts approved in 2004 concern 4 contracts or only about 0.82% of the total number of contracts approved in 2004. In absolute value these 6 amendments represent 0.1% of all contracts approved in 2004. (Table 16).

5.5.3. The highest rate (in absolute value), representing the amendment amount as a percentage of the initial contract amount was 58.6%. The corresponding amendment stands at UA -325 984 and concerns a contract worth UA 556 620. The lowest rate (in absolute value) was 0.2%. The corresponding amendment is a negative one of UA -59 832 and is for a contract worth UA 24 257 372.

Other Amendments Approved in 2004

5.5.4. These number 93 for a total amount of UA 17 million relating to contracts approved between 1997 and 2003. 54% of these 93 amendments concerned contracts for 2002 and 2003, whereas the remaining 46% concerned contracts prior to 2002. Of the 93 amendments, 17% represented downward adjustments of initial contract amounts.

5.5.5. The unit amount for the amendments range between UA -1.69 million (case of reduction in the initial contract cost) and UA 4.7 million. Their unit values represented between -8% (case of the drop in the initial contract amount) and 29% of the value of the initial contract concerning them. In this latter case, the initial contract was UA 16 701 777.49 while the amendment concerned UA 4 789 25208.

[9] Some transactions designed to settle technical problems arising from disbursements (currency conversion, cancellation of balances etc., are registered in the SAP under the category Amendments. For the purpose of this analysis, PPRU had to "clean up" the data fairly extensively.

5.5.6. A study of the size of amendments approved in 2004, relating to contracts approved before then, shows that 54.9% of the amendment value was mainly for unit amounts at least higher than UA 1 million or 3.2% of the total number of amendments. In 2003, 62% of the value was concentrated on unit amounts higher at least than UA 1 million. The group representing the highest number of amendments for 2004 (23.7%) corresponds to that for amendments valued between UA 100,000 and UA 500,000, which cover only 31.3% of the amendment value (Table 17).

5.5.7. The 3 amendments amounting to 54.9% of the total value of the other amendments for 2004 concern works contracts. They relate to road development and water supply. The amounts for these three amendments are UA 1.47, 3.12 and 4.79 million for respective contract values of UA 22.7, 22.7 and 16.7 million (in the proportions of 6.5%, 13.7% and 29% of the contract value respectively).

5.5.8. By and large, the 93 amendments concerned relatively modest amounts as compared to the values of the corresponding initial contracts (Table 18). Furthermore, 99% of them represented less than 30% of the initial value of the contract in question against 90% in 2003. This illustrates a good trend in light of Appendix IV of the Rules of Procedure for Procurement of Goods and Works and Annex 3 of the Rules of Procedure for the Use of Consultants.

Amendments Approved in 2004 by Contract Type

5.5.9. The study of amendment distribution by type of contract shows those approved in 2004 concerned mainly works contract: 75.23% of the amendment value and 50.51% of the number. The services contract amendments accounted for 6.64% of the amendment value and 28.28% of the number. Those for goods contracts represented 18.13% in value and 21.21% in number (Table 19). In 2003, works totalled 63.9% of the amendment value and 49.2% of their number.

Amendments Approved in 2004 by Region

5.5.10. In terms of regional breakdown, the Operations Department for the South Region approved 35% of the value of positive amendments in 2004. It is followed by the West (32%), North (24%), Centre (6%) and East (1%). Concerning the amendment distribution of the negative amount in 2004, the Operations Department for the West Region approved 72% of amendment value, followed by the East (15%), Centre (6%) and North (6%). In 2003, the North recorded the highest value of positive amendments with 36%. Furthermore, contracts for multinational type projects registered two positive amendments. Lastly, no negative amendments were registered for multinational projects in 2004. (Table 20).
