SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

1. This document is the eleventh PPRU report of the Bank's monitoring of procurement by regional borrower countries for Bank Group-funded projects. The information it contains comes primarily from contracts integrated into the Bank's SAP-PMS (Project Management System). Chapters 1 and 2 of the report deal with the context and methodology of the analysis while Chapter 3 is devoted to a review of the 921 contracts approved by the Bank Group in 2005. Chapter 4 is based on a sample of 627 contracts with an individual value higher than UA 50 000, the cumulative value of which amounts to 98% of the total value of contracts approved in 2005. It should be noted that, since 1997, contracts with an individual value exceeding UA 50 000 accounted for not less than 98% of the annual total contract value. This chapter focuses on the procurement process, procurement methods actually used and bidder participation levels. Chapter 5 covers contract financing, i.e. the time required by the procurement process, claims and contract amendments.

2. In comparing the fundamental principles of the Bank's procurement of goods, works and consultancy services, on the one hand, with the procurement process in borrowing countries and their monitoring by the Operations department, on the other, this report elicits the following main comments:

i) Economy and Efficiency: Various measures taken for economy and efficiency continue to yield positive results. In particular, these include intensifying the distribution of standard bidding documents, in both print and electronic versions available on the Bank's website, the application of Presidential Instruction PI no. 02/98 on Procedures for the Review of Procurement Documents, the participation of contract specialists in start-up missions for new projects, their supervision and mid-term review, in addition to the regular organisation of procurement workshops in Regional Member Countries and for Bank staff. In 2005, PPRU and PDRE organised, in Regional Member Countries, thirteen (13) national project implementation and procurement management workshops for both project managers and executing agency staff. Twelve (12) such workshops were organised in 2004. Furthermore, six procurement training workshops were organised internally, at Tunis, by PPRU and CHRM for Bank staff.

ii) Equal Access to Contracts for All Eligible Bidders: Firms of 61 countries (as against 64 in 2004) were awarded 921 contracts financed by the Bank Group. Moreover, firms of 58 member countries (40 regional and 18 non-regional) participated in the procurement process, which led to the award of 627 contracts above UA 50,000 in 2005. The Bank stepped up the organisation of Business Opportunity Seminars for firms of member countries with a view to disseminating information on consultancy services and the supply of goods and works for contracts financed by the Bank Group in member countries. In 2005, PPRU organised in these countries eight (8) Business Opportunity Seminars (BOS) as against seven (7) in 2004. These seminars were on each occasion attended by over 100 participants in both Regional and Non-Regional Member Countries. This is a clear indication of the growing interest consultants, firms and suppliers of regional countries have in the Bank's activities.

iii) Participation of Regional Contractors and Suppliers: Contractors and suppliers registered in Regional Member Countries won 80% of the total volume of contracts (if account is taken only of the number) and 53.1% of the total value of contracts approved in 2005. In 2004, these values were 77.1% and 54.4%, respectively. Generally, firms of Regional Member Countries won more contracts than those of Non-Regional Member Countries, often on their own territory (particularly in the case of supplies and works, following local competitive bidding or local shopping). The fact remains, however, that regional firms won mainly contracts for small or average amounts whereas the more substantial contracts went to non-regional firms. On the other hand, several international firms have set up offices in the local African environment, and their operations are considered as regional operations.

iv) Transparency: Two complaints received in 2004 and relating to Bank recommendations upon the award of the contracts were considered by the Procurement Review Committee (PCR) in early 2005. In both cases, the complaints were judged inadmissible. In other words, the majority of complaints lodged by bidders concerned either a decision taken by the project executing agency that the Bank judged acceptable or decisions related to patently unjustified claims for which the borrowers provided explanations that satisfied both the bidders and the Bank. It is worth recalling that between 2002 and 2005, the Committee received no admissible complaint. It can therefore be concluded that, during this period, the principle of transparency was generally duly applied in the procurement of goods, works and services for Bank Group-financed contracts.

3. Concerning the time-frame for processing procurement documents, the review focused on a larger sample in 2005 (181 cases) than in 2004 (164 cases), and there is still an upward trend in the average time taken for processing goods and works contracts, which rose from 17.6 months in 2004 to 19.2 months in 2005. However, the average time-frame for processing procurement documents for consultancy services dropped from 17.5 months in 2004 to 16.3 months in 2005. On the other hand, from 2003 to 2005, the average time required for processing documents tended to rise, from an average of 16.5 months in 2003, to 17.5 months in 2004, and finally 17.8 months in 2005. In application of the steps taken by the Bank, the number of workshops for training in project implementation increased during the period 2004-2005 while the training of Bank staff was also stepped up during the same period. These measures also covered assistance to the countries in question for procurement capacity building, including joint World Bank and ADB preparation of CPARs (Country Procurement Assessment Reports) as well as the harmonisation of procurement documents at the level of multilateral development aid institutions. The overriding goal remains the proposal to decentralise and delegate authority to regional offices so as to bring the decision–making process closer to borrowers. Finally, in collaboration with the International Harmonisation Programme, in 2004 the Bank started to revise its rules and procedures for the procurement of goods, work and consultancy services so as to facilitate the flow of the procurement process, harmonise the rules and procedures with those of similar Multilateral Development Institutions while taking into account the vital needs of Regional Member Countries. This exercise is scheduled for completion in 2006.

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. The purpose of this eleventh Annual Report on the Procurement of Goods, Works and Services, compiled by PPRU, is to inform Management and Boards of Directors of the Bank's contract award operations, by means of a statistical study for year 2005.

1.2. The report comprises the following key sections: Analysis of procurement methods used by Bank borrowers and the geographic distribution of bidders and successful bidders. The study also focuses on the breakdown of the contracts awarded by size and procurement method used, the procurement documents processing time-frame, complaints and amendments to contracts approved in 2005.

1.3. SAP-PMS[1] (Projects Management System) generated data based on information from the Operations Departments as contracts were being approved.

1.4. This database showed that 921[2] contracts were approved in 2005, of which 627 were for amounts exceeding UA 50,000. These account for 98% of the total value of contracts or 68% of their number. While the number of contracts approved by the Bank, for the period under review, increased by 27%, rising from 726 in 2004 to 921 in 2005, their cumulative value also went up by slightly less than 3%, from UA 417 million in 2004 to UA 428 million in 2005.

1.5. In many respects, this report provides an analysis of the major trends underlying the award of goods, works and consultancy services by comparing the key variables for 2003, 2004 and 2005, such as total contract amount and breakdown in the total contract volume by amount, market share trend between the regional and non-regional countries and the frequency of use of the various procurement methods.

1.6. For relevance in the comparison of figures, it should be noted that the data used in the preparation of this report was extracted from the SAP-PMS system on 1st April 2006 whereas that of the previous report (2004 Report) was taken on 15 April 2005. In future, such data will be systematically extracted on 1st April of each year. It is also worth mentioning that project officers constantly enter contract data into the SAP-PMS, and therefore the number of contracts entered into the system increases continually throughout the year.

[1] SAP is the integrated data-processing system used by the Bank since 2001.

[2] The statistics which served for drawing up this report were extracted from the SAP-PMS system on 1st April 2006. It is worth mentioning that at that time some contracts already approved and signed in 2005 had still not been incorporated into the system.

2. METHODOLOGY

2.1. The study covers contracts approved in 2005, within the context of Bank-funded projects. However, the overall sample does not take into account amendments to procurement contracts (dealt with separately in paragraph 5.5.) or contracts awarded on non-project loan resources (lines of credit, structural and sector adjustment programmes).

2.2. As in previous reports, the approach used consisted in preparing:

- Statistics based on all 921 contracts approved in 2005 or procurement data that provided general information on the unit amounts, successful bidders' nationalities and contract source of finance.

- Statistics for the contract award process management (procurement methods, bids, document processing time-frames and claims) prepared from contracts worth more than UA 50,000, for which detailed data concerning the procedure for their award has been obtained.

2.3. An analysis of the data helped to determine the sample size for contracts exceeding UA 50,000 or 627 contracts worth a total of UA 421 million. The value of this sample amounts to 98% of all contracts approved in 2005 and 68% of their number. From 2003 to 2005, individual contracts above UA 50,000 corresponded to at least 98% of the total value of the contracts for the year. They represented between 68% and 70% of the total number of contracts (Table 1).

3. STATISTICS ON THE 2005 PROCUREMENT PERFORMANCE

3.1. Contract Size

3.1.1. The number of contracts (based on information from SAP), increased significantly between 2004 (726 contracts) and 2005 (921 contracts); the total contract value rose from UA 417 million to 428 million (an increase of slightly less than 3%). The average size of the contracts reduced by 19%, from UA 574 160 million in 2004 to UA 464 683 in 2005. In addition, the maximum contract value recorded for 2005 was UA 13 04 million as against UA 37 56 million in 2004.

3.1.2. The average size of goods contracts increased significantly in 2005 (from UA 270 159 in 2004 to UA 341 957 in 2005, or a 27% increase). That of works contracts dropped considerably from UA 1 224 198 to UA 726 166 (-41%) while services contracts registered a slight increase over 2004 (from UA 229 842 to 256 912). (Table 2).

Consultancy Contracts	227 996	229 842	256 912
Total Contracts	462 272	574 160	464 863

3.1.3. Over the past three years, the proportion of small-size contracts (below UA 50 000) levelled off to around 30% of the total number of contracts (31.12% in 2003, 30.44% in 2004 and 31.94% in 2005). For larger contracts, the proportions also remained almost the same as those of the previous years. For all three years, about half the number of contracts was below UA 100 000 (Table 3 Graph 1). Lastly, the largest contract recorded was a telecommunication equipment supply contract worth UA 13.4 million, obtained by a German firm in Algeria.

3.1.4. Concerning contract value, the level of small-size contracts (below UA 50,000) rose slightly compared to 2004: 1.66% in 2003, 1.22% in 2004 and 1.63% in 2005. It is worth noting that in 2005, all contracts amounted to less than UA 15 million.

3.1.5. From 2003 to 2005, the largest portion of the total contract value was between UA 1-5 million, in the proportions of: 36.19% in 2005, 32.09% in 2004 and 38.72% in 2003 (Table 4 and Graph 4).

3.1.6. From 2003 to 2005, the cumulative distribution of the number of contracts for goods and services were almost identical (Graph 3). In the case of works contracts, the most significant tranches for 2005 were the intermediate tranches with 14% for the UA 50,000-100,000 tranche, 22% for the UA 100,000-250,000 tranche, and 17% for the UA 250,000-500,000 tranche (Graph 4). For services contracts, distribution in number in the various tranches for 2005 was slightly lower than those for 2004 and 2003 (Graph 5).

3.1.7. The number of contracts was still dominated by goods (42%, 39% and 41% in 2003, 2004 and 2005, respectively), followed by works (31%, 33% and 37%) and lastly, services (24%, 27% and 28%) (Graph 6).

3.1.8. An analysis of the breakdown of the total contract amount by procurement method shows that generally goods and works collectively accounted for between 87% and 88% of the total contract value, from 2003 to 2005. A review of the period suggests that the works contracts amounts predominated in 2003, 2004 and 2005 with 64%, 70% and 58%, respectively. As is to be expected, the consultancy contracts were the lowest in terms of value, accounting respectively for 13% in 2003, 11% in 2004 and 12% in 2005 (Graph 7).

3.2. Contract Distribution between Regional[3] and Non-regional Firms

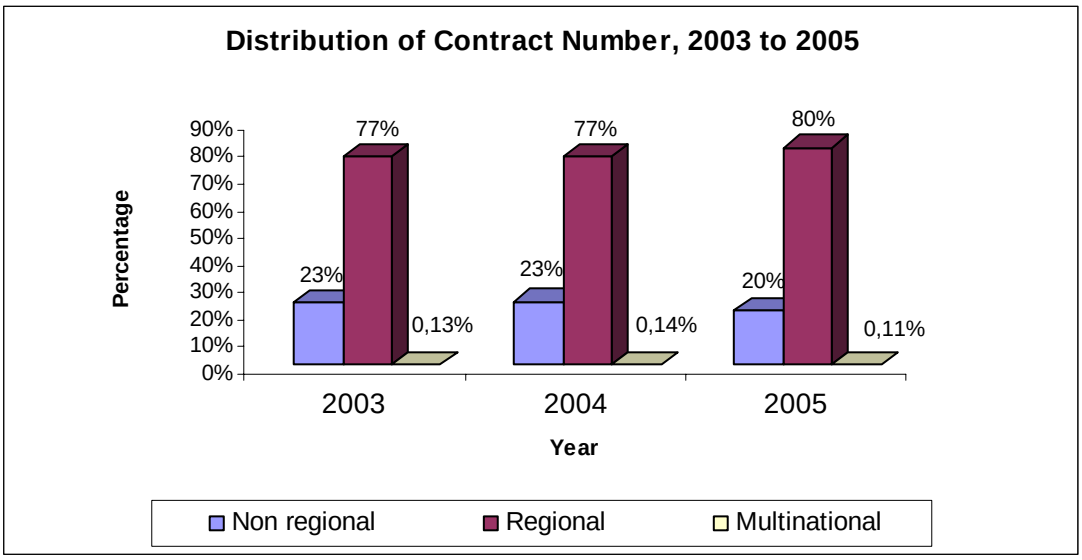

3.2.1. The distribution of contracts between regional and non-regional firms in 2005 was as follows: 19.87% of contracts for non-regional firms as against 80.02% for regional firms, and 0.11% for multinationals[4]. From 2003 to 2005, the share in number of contracts for regional firms increased steadily, up from 76.91% in 2003 to 77.13% in 2004 and 80.02% in 2005. Figures for non-regional firms dropped noticeably in 2005: 22.96% in 2003, 22.73% in 2004 and 19.87% in 2005. The share of multinationals still remained marginal (Table 5 and Graph 8).

3.2.2. In terms of value, non-regional firms accounted for 46.57% of the total contract amount as against 53.11% for regional firms and 0.32% for multinationals. There was a slight drop in the share of regional firms (from 54.42% in 2004 to 53.11% in 2005) and an equivalent rise in the share of non-regional firms (from 45.47% in 2004 to 46.57% in 2005). Although the share of multinationals tripled in 2005, it remained very low (0.32% in 2005 as against 0.11% in 2004) (Table 6 and Graph 9).

3.3.1. The total volume of Bank Group disbursements declined slightly in 2005, from UA 1 316 million to UA 1 289 million.

3.3.2. This decline reflects the appreciable decrease in the disbursement volume of the ADB window, which dropped from UA 630 million to UA 595 million (or 5.6%), although for the same period, the disbursement volume of the ADF window rose by 1.6% (from UA 680 to 691 million). Disbursements from the Nigeria Trust Fund (NTF) also dropped by 29%, from UA 4.8 million to UA 3.4 million (Graph 10).

[6] There is a marked difference between the amount of contracts awarded in a year and the amount of disbursements made in the same year. Contracts awarded in a given year can be executed over several years and therefore be disbursed over several years.

4. CHARACTERISTICS OF THE PROCUREMENT PROCESS

4.1. Introduction

4.1.1. In an effort to make the data processed relevant, only contracts above UA 50,000 were subject to statistical analysis in this chapter. This sample represents 627 contracts amounting to UA 421 million, or 98% of the total value of contracts awarded in 2005. This contract sample is the subject of this chapter.

4.2. Procurement Methods

4.2.1. With regard to the number of contracts by procurement method, 195 contracts (or 31.1%) were awarded through International Competitive Bidding, 241 (or 38.43%) through National Competitive Bidding and 115 (or 18.34%) through shortlists (Table 7).

4.2.2. In terms of contract amounts, International Competitive Bidding (ICB) was used to award an amount representing 67% of the total contract value covered by the 2005 financial year; the rate for 2004 was 72%. National Competitive Bidding accounted for 15% of the total contract value in 2005, as against 15% as well in 2004. Lastly, shortlists represented 11% of the total contract value in 2005 (as against 9% in 2004). These three main procurement methods totalled 93% of the

Lastly, shortlists represented 11% (9% in 2004), with 1% for goods, 9.7% for services (8.4% in 2004). The other procurement methods accounted for 7.3% of the total contract value (4.4% in 2004) (Table 9).

4.2.5. International Competitive Bidding (ICB) and National Competitive Bidding (NCB) were used mainly for the procurement of goods and works with a combined value of 92.4% (89.7% en 2004), (Graph 11). Shortlists constituted the predominant method used for the selection of international consultants and for national/regional consultants for consultancy services, with a value of 86.5% (88.2% en 2004), (Graph 12).

Graph 12[8]

[8] Bank regulations require that consultants be recruited on the basis of a shortlist. Some project managers sometimes enter into the SAP, ICB, LIC or NCB as the method of procurement of consultancy services, but in the final analysis shortlists are always drawn up. In this graph, the shortlist method has been used generally.

4.3. Bid Participation [9]

4.3.1. This section deals with the bid amounts[8], number and bid information received. In 2005, 1,355 bids were received for the 921 contracts approved, or an average of 1.47 bids per contract. The 1,355 bids were from 706 separate bidders. In 2004, 1,118 bidders participated for 726 contracts (an average of 1.53 bids per contract).

4.3.2. Firms in regional member countries presented slightly more than thrice as many bids as their non-regional counterparts: 77.3% as against 22.6% of the total number of bids (Table 10). In terms of value, and in relation to 2004, the share of regional firms increased appreciably from 64.8% to 78.2%, to the disadvantage of non-regional firms, which fell from 35.1% to 21.7%. The share of multinational bids is still very marginal.

4.3.3. In terms of the nationalities of firms taking part in the competition, bidders from China took the lead with 13.6%, followed by those of Tunisia (9%), France (8.9%), Germany (7.9%) and India (6.3%) of the total bid value (Graph 13). In 2004, Tunisia led (20%), followed by China (9%) and Tanzania (7%).

4.3.4. In terms of the number of bids, the following countries stood out: Tunisia (7.9%), Malawi (7.8%) and Madagascar (5.4%). In 2004, Tunisia led (18.6%), followed by France (5.9) and Mozambique (5.2%).

4.3.5. Regarding bid value for participation in International Competitive Bidding, the following countries topped the list: China (21%), Germany (11%), India (9%), France (9%), Tunisia (8%), Morocco (7%) and South Africa (4%). (Graph 14). In 2004, the lead countries were: Tunisia (22%), China (11%), South Africa (10%), Tanzania (9%), France (8%), Burkina Faso (5%) and Germany (5%).

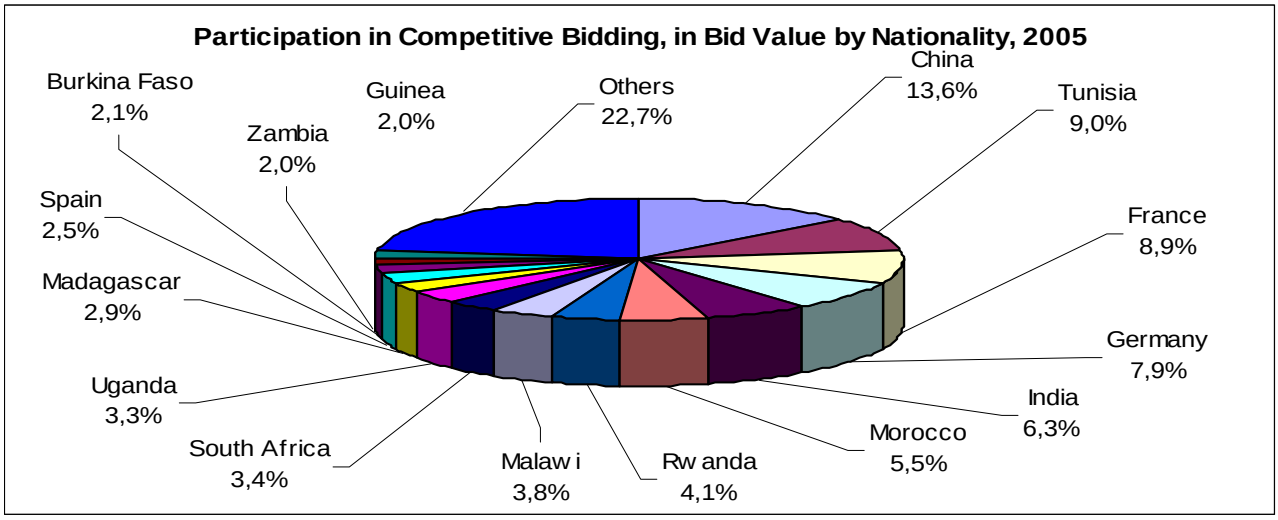

4.3.6. Concerning the bid value for National Competitive Bidding, Malawian and Tunisian bidders took the lead with 20% each, followed by Zambia (10%) and Rwanda (6%) (Graph 15). In 2004, bidders from the following were in the lead: Tunisia (39%), followed by those of Ethiopia (8%) and Mozambique (8%).

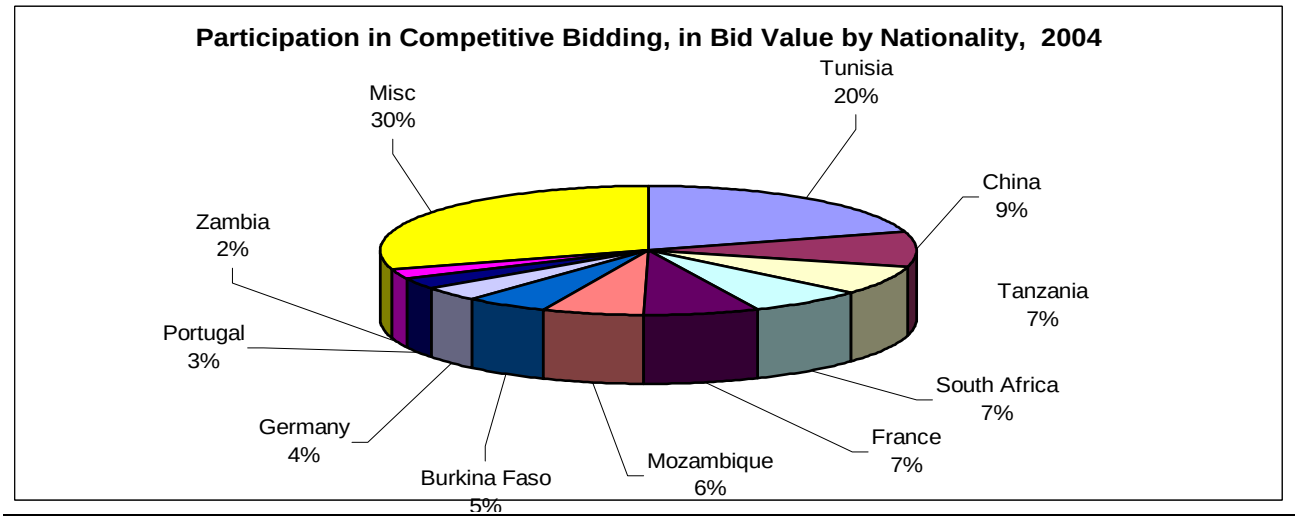

[9] The information on which this analysis is based is incomplete because in a number of cases only the awardees are listed in the project management system, not all bidders in the competition

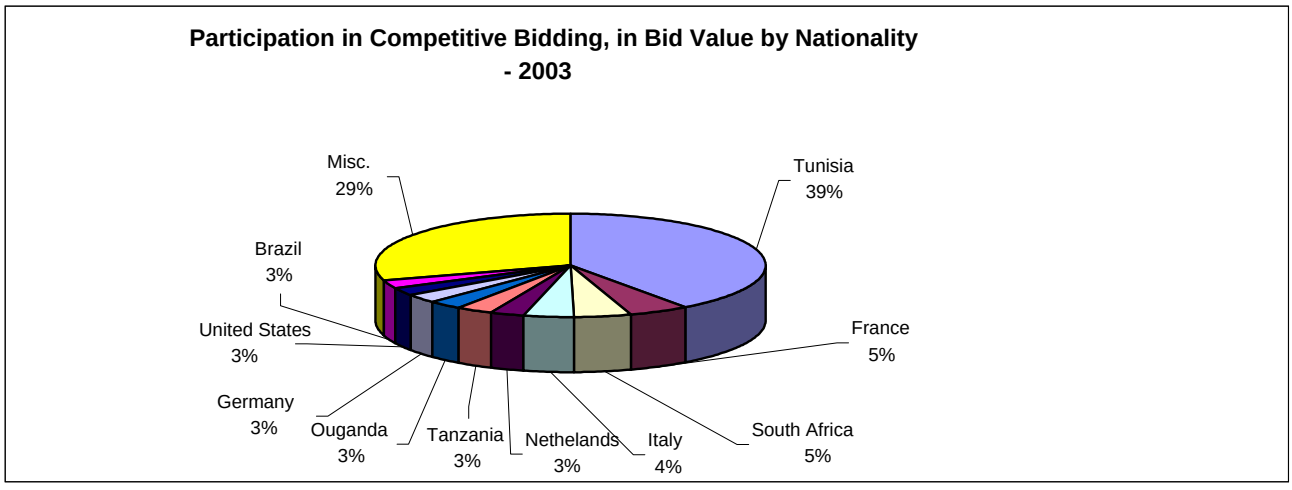

[8] The total bid amount represents the total number of contracts in competition for which the bidders registered in a given country took part in the bidding. This variable is used to calculate the bid value of a country.

4.3.7. With regard to the bid value of contracts awarded through international short-listing, bidders from France were in the lead with 24%, followed by Germans (8%), British (6%), Swiss (5%) and Nigerians (5%) (Graph 16). In 2004, bidders from Mozambique took the lead with 40% of the bid value, followed by those from Canada (12%), France (6%), Niger (5%) and Nigeria (5%).

4.4. Nationality of Successful Bidders

4.4.1. An analysis by nationality of the distribution of successful bidders for the 627 contracts (above UA 50,000) in 2005 reveals that, in terms of value, contracts were principally awarded to firms from China (15%), Tunisia (10%), France (9%) and Germany (7%) (v. Graph 17). China and Tunisia were already in the lead in 2004, with a share each of 18% and 10%, respectively.

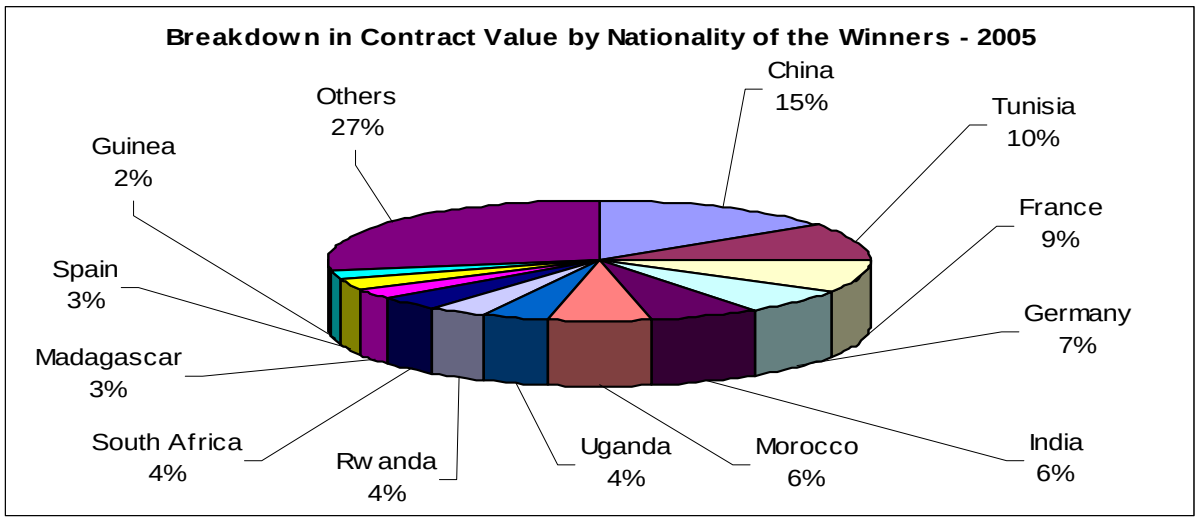

4.4.2. Tunisia won the largest number of contracts in 2005 (9.6%), as was already the case in 2004 when the country won 9.7% of the contract value and 12% of the number of contracts. It was followed by France, with 6.5% of the number of contracts, Madagascar (6.4%), Uganda (5.1%) and Ghana (3.8%). Lastly, it is worth noting that China obtained 15% of the total contract value as against only 2.9% of the total number.

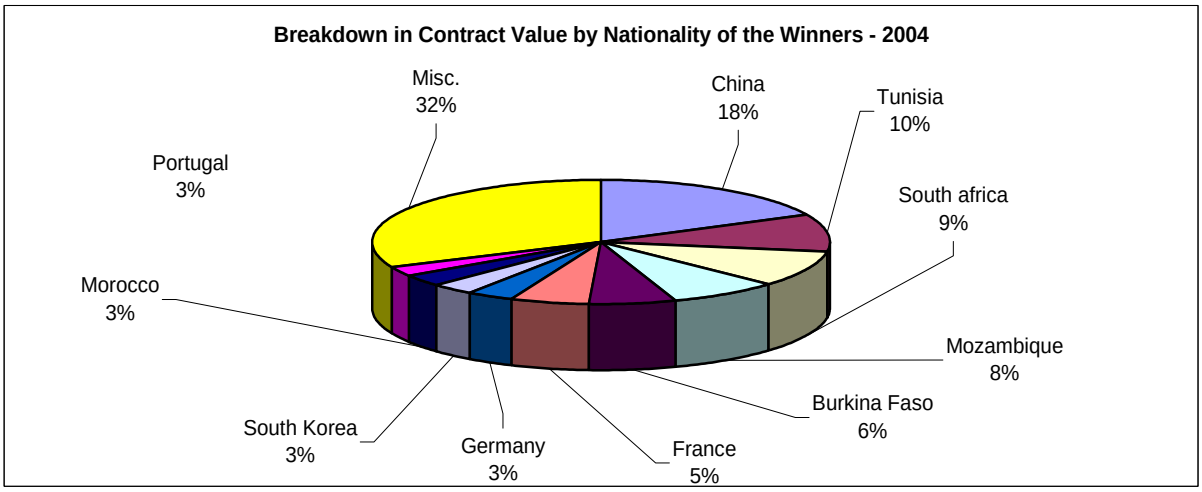

4.4.3. Goods Contracts: Concerning the value of goods contracts in 2005, India topped with 21%, followed by Germany (20%), France (11%), Spain (10%), Guinea (5%), The Netherlands (4%) and Denmark (4%) (Graph 18). In 2004, France (17%), Italy (12%) and Germany (10%).

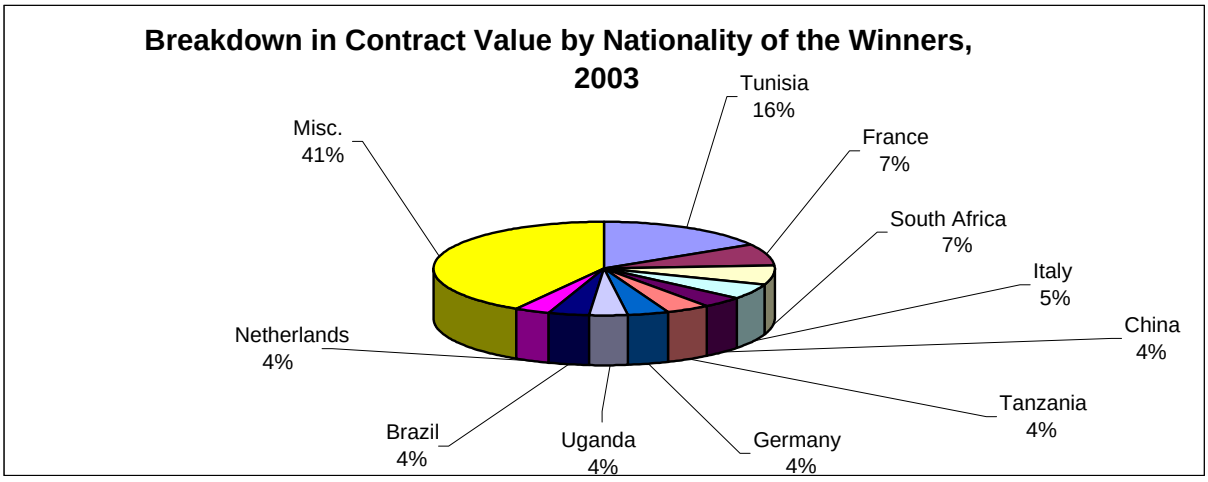

4.4.4. Works Contracts: In terms of works contract value, China and Tunisia were in the lead with 25% and 15%, respectively, followed by Morocco (11%), Rwanda (6%), Uganda (6%) and South Africa (5%) (Graph 19). In 2004, countries in the lead were China (25%), South Africa (13%) and Tunisia (12%).

4.4.5. Consultancy Services Contracts: Consulting firms from France, Germany and United Kingdom won, respectively, 27%, 8% and 6% of the consultancy services contracts in 2004. They were followed by Switzerland (5%), Senegal (4%), Tunisia (4%) and United States (3%). In 2004, Canada was in the lead (19%), followed by France (14%) and Nigeria (7%). (Graph 20).

5. OTHER PROCUREMENT ASPECTS

5.1. Contract Financing

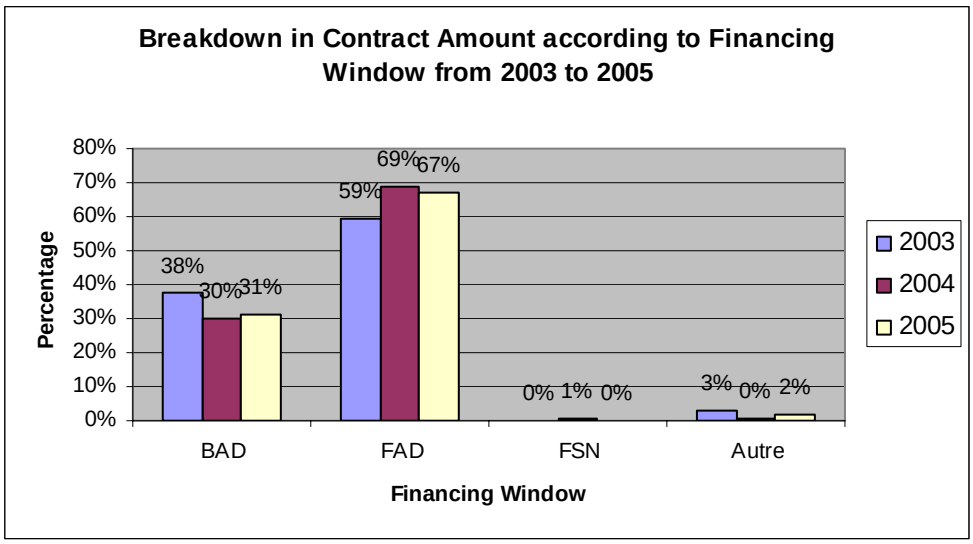

5.1.1. In terms of contract financing, the share of the ADF (African Development Fund) window dropped slightly from 68.91% in 2004 to 66.90% in 2005. The ADB (African Development Bank) window, for its part, went from 37.56% in 2003 to 30.10% in 2004 and finally to 31.42% in 2005. The weight of the NTF (Nigeria Trust Fund) window remained marginal: It financed 0.08% of contract value in 2003, 0.67% in 2004 and 0.09% in 2005.

5.1.2. In terms of number of contracts, the ADB window financed 20.30% in 2005 as against 14.46% in 2004 and 18.88% in 2003. The ADF window accounted for 78.39% in 2005, as against 84.57% in 2004 and 78.8% in 2003. (Table 11 and Graph 22).

5.2. Procurement Document Processing Time-frame

5.2.1. The time-frames for processing procurement documents (at borrowing country and Bank levels) were analysed using a sample of 181 contracts in 2005, compared with 164 contracts in 2004, or an increase of 10% in the sampling size. In terms of proportion, the 164 contracts processed in 2004 represented 23% of the annual total while for 2005, the sample of 181 contracts represented 20% of all contracts.

5.2.2. Statistics show that during the procurement of goods and works by executing agencies, in the context of Bank Group-financed projects in 2005, the process took on average 19.2. months from initial receipt of the procurement documents to receipt of the signed contracts. The average for 2004 was 17.6 months. This general average masks the average variations of the various regions, ranging from a maximum of 27.1 months for the South Region to a minimum of 13.6 months for the Central Region. More precisely, it takes on average, 2.5 months (1.1 months in 2004) between receipt of procurement documents and their approval by the Bank. Between this approval by the Bank and the receipt of bids by borrowers, there was an average time lapse of 4.3 months (5.3 months in 2004). It took an average of 5 days (3 days in 2004) from receipt to opening of bids while from the opening of bids to the approval of contracts took 7.9 months (6.9 months in 2004), and the time-frame for contract approval to signature was 2.5 months (2.8 months in 2004). Furthermore, the average time-frame between signature of contract by the executing agency and the Bank's receipt of the signed contract was 1.9 months (1.5 months in 2004) (Table 12).

5.2.3. The procurement of consultancy services by borrowers, in 2005, took on average 16.3 months between initial reception of the request for proposals and reception of the final contract by the Bank (Table 13). It was 17.5 months in 2004. This still very high time-frame can be explained in part by the fact that 7 months or 43% of the time is lost between the initial opening of bids by borrowers and approval of the evaluation by the Bank. It must be recalled that consultancy services require the submission of technical and financial proposals in separate envelopes and that the evaluation is conducted in two stages. In accordance with Article 3.8.11 of the Rules of Procedure for the Use of Consultants, each stage may require Bank approval, which takes time. Measures must be taken by the Operations Department to reduce this time-frame. More specifically, this means it took an average of: 1.9

months for borrowers to obtain approval of the Bank's request for proposals as against 2.5 months for goods and works procurement documents; 3.3 months from the processing of such approved documents and receipt of proposals, as against 4.3 months in the case of goods and works; 15 days between receipt and opening of bids as against 5 days in the case of goods and works; 7 months from opening of bids to approval of evaluations, as against 7.9 months in the case of goods and works; 2.3 months between approval of evaluations and signature of contracts (2.5 in the case of goods and works) and 1.3 months from signature of contracts to reception of the signed contracts (1.9 months for goods and works).

5.2.4. For the procurement of goods, works and consultancy services, the average time-frame between reception of the bidding documents and that of the signed contracts was 17.8 months as against 17.5 months in 2004 and 16.5 months in 2003. The increase in this timeframe was partly due not only to time lost between the opening of the bids and finalisation and approval of the evaluations but also to the fact that the data provided was often incomplete. (Table 14).

5.3. Complaints

5.3.1. In 2005, eighteen (18) complaints were registered by the Bank, compared to seven (7) in 2004, representing an increase of 154%. This rise can be explained mainly by the fact that most of bidders have now integrated into their strategy the use of due process systems available under the procedures. This trend demonstrates the progress achieved in terms of transparency and greater confidence of the participants in the procurement process.

5.3.2. Of the 18 complaints, OCAR received six (6), OCSD five (5), OCIN three (3), ONIN three (3) and ONSD one (1) Table 15.

Department	Number

OCSD	5

5.3.3. Of these 18 complaints, 13 occurred before the Bank's non-objection to the award phase, or in 72% of the cases (57% in 2004), and 5 complaints were made after the Bank's non-objection to the award phase and even after contract signature, or in 28% of the cases (43% in 2004.

5.3.4. The claims examined related to the following aspects of the procurement process:

- Lack of transparency in the bid evaluation process;
- Irregularities committed by the borrower in the evaluation of bids (use of criteria not specified in the bidding documents, modification of the bidding criteria after the opening of bids, award of contracts after bid validity date, etc...);
- Submission of invalid or fake documents;
- Proven or unproven cases of conflict of interest;
- Rumour-based allegations and complaints;
- Annulment of contract;
- Price negotiation, in violation of evaluation procedure laid down in the bidding documents,

5.3.5. Complaints related to projects in 11 countries. For the sectors concerned, education projects attracted 7 complaints, agriculture 4 and health 1. Some complaints were also made in connection with infrastructure projects.

5.3.6. The majority of complaints examined were judged inadmissible and were rejected as the arguments advanced were judged baseless in view of Bank rules. In all cases, the executing agency or borrower was asked to examine the purpose of the complaint and to provide relevant explanations to the complainants. In other cases where irregularities were observed, either on the basis of complaints or others identified by the Bank, the borrower was asked to restart the bid evaluation process that had given rise to the irregularities. Most of the complaints were fully examined and the Borrower observed the Bank's recommendations.

5.4. Procurement Review Committee (PRC)

5.4.1. Two complaints received in 2004 concerning Bank recommendations after contract award were examined by the Procurement Review Committee (PRC) early 2005. In both cases, the complaints were pronounced inadmissible.

5.4.2. Furthermore, depending on the outcome of investigations conducted into fraudulent practices alleged in one of the complaints, the case may be referred to the PRC and action taken by the Bank, in accordance with the rules of procedure applicable in such cases.

5.5. Contract Amendments[10]

Introduction

5.5.1. In 2005, the Bank approved 103 amendments for a total amount of UA 24.9 million (compared with 88 amendments amounting to UA 16.7 million in 2004). These amendments are subdivided into two groups: those for contracts approved in 2005 (8 amendments) and those for contracts approved prior to 2005 (totalling 95).

5.5.2. The highest rate (in absolute value), representing the amendment amount as a percentage of the initial contract amount, was 83.2%. The corresponding amendment stood at UA -452 178 and concerned a contract worth UA 543 233. The lowest rate (in absolute value) was 0.13%. The corresponding amendment amounted to UA 7 232 and was for a contract worth UA 5 646 574.

Amendments to Contracts Approved in 2005

5.5.3. The 8 amendments to contracts approved in 2005 related to 8 contracts for 2 projects and involved only about 0.86% of the total number of contracts approved in 2005. In terms of absolute value, these 8 amendments represented 0.04% of all contracts approved in 2005 (Table 17).

Other Amendments Approved in 2005

5.5.4. Other amendments approved in 2005, but relating to contracts approved prior to 2005 numbered 95. These amendments amounted to a total of UA 24.75 million and related to contracts approved between 1998 and 2004. In 32% of the cases, these 95 amendments concerned contracts for 2003 and 2004 while 68% related to contracts prior to 2003. Of the 95 amendments, 6% consisted of downward adjustments of initial contract amounts.

[10] Some transactions designed to settle technical problems arising from disbursements (currency conversion, cancellation of balances etc.), are registered in the SAP under the category Amendments. For the purpose of this analysis, PPRU had to "clean up" the data fairly extensively.

5.5.5. The unit amounts for the amendments ranged between UA -0.75 million (case of reduction of initial contract amount) to UA 5.16 million. Their unit values represented between -83% (case of reduction of initial contract amount) and 49% of the initial contract amount concerning them. In this latter case, the initial contract was UA 163 950 while the amendment involved UA 80 745.

5.5.6. A study of the size of amendments approved in 2005 and relating to contracts approved before then, shows that 58% of the amendment value was mainly for unit amounts at least higher than UA 1 million, or 7.4% of the total number of amendments. In 2004, 54.9% of the value was concentrated on unit amounts at least higher than UA 1 million. The group representing the highest number of amendments for 2005 (31.6%) corresponded to that for amendments valued between UA 100 000 and UA 500 000, which covered only 26% of the amendment value (Table 18).

5.5.7. Of the seven amendments amounting to 58% of the total value of the other amendments for 2005, six amounted to between UA 1 000 000 and UA 5 000 000; with the latter being an amendment of a particularly high amount (UA 5.16 million). It related to irrigation and water supply works for which the contract amount was UA 24.3 million.

5.5.8. On the whole, the 95 amendments involved relatively modest amounts as compared to the value of the corresponding initial contracts. (Table 19). Furthermore, 99% of them represented less than 30% of the initial value of the contract in question; this percentage was also 99% in 2004.

Amendments Approved in 2005 by Contract Type

5.5.9. A review of the breakdown of amendments by contract type shows that those approved in 2005 concerned mainly works contracts: 80.2% of the amendment value and 42.7% of the number. Services contract amendments accounted for 8.1% of the amendment value and 36.9% of the number. Those for goods contracts represented 11.7% of the value and 20.4% of the number (Table 20). In 2004, works totalled 75.2% of the amendment value and 50.5% of their number.

Amendments Approved in 2005 by Region

5.5.10. In terms of the breakdown by region, the Operations Department for the East Region approved 47.5% of the value of positive amendments in 2005. It was followed by the South (31.4%), West (14.8%), North (2.7%) and Centre (1.4%). With regard to the amendment distribution of negative amounts, in 2005, the Operations Department for the East Region approved 48% of the amendment value, followed by the West (28.9%), South (21.2%) and the Centre (1.8%). In 2004, the South recorded the highest value of positive amendments with 35%. Furthermore, contracts for multinational-type projects registered seven positive amendments. Finally, no negative amendment was registered for multinational projects in 2005 (Table 21).
