SUMMARY AND CONCLUSIONS

1. This document is the twelfth ORPU report on the Bank's monitoring of procurement by regional borrower countries under Bank Group-funded projects. The information it contains comes primarily from the contracts entered into the Bank's SAP-PMS (Project Management System). Chapters 1 and 2 of the report deal with the context and methodology of the analysis while Chapter 3 reviews the 1120 contracts approved by the Bank Group in 2006. Chapter 4 is based on a sample of 730 contracts with an individual value higher than UA 50 000 and a cumulative value of representing 98% of the total value of contracts approved in 2006. It should be noted that contracts with unit values exceeding UA 50 000 have accounted for not less than 98% of the annual total contract value since 1997. This chapter focuses on the procurement process, procurement methods actually used and bidder participation levels. Chapter 5 covers contract financing, i.e. the time taken by the procurement process, complaints and contract amendments.

2. In comparing the fundamental principles of the Bank's procurement of goods, works and consultancy services, on the one hand, with the application of the procurement process in borrowing countries and its monitoring by the Operations department, on the other, this report elicits the following main comments:

i) Economy and Efficiency: Various measures taken for economy and efficiency continue to yield positive results. In particular, these include intensifying the distribution of standard bidding documents, in print as well as in the electronic versions available on the Bank's website, the application of Presidential Instruction PI no. 02/98 on Procedures for the Review of Procurement Documents, the participation of procurement specialists in start-up missions for new projects, and in their supervision and mid-term review, in addition to the regular organisation of procurement workshops in Regional Member Countries and for Bank staff. In 2006, ORPU organised, in Regional Member Countries, eleven (11) national project implementation and procurement management workshops for both project managers and executing agency staff. Thirteen (13) such workshops were organised in 2005. Furthermore, eight procurement training workshops were organised internally, at Tunis, by ORPU and CHRM for Bank staff.

ii) Equal Access to Contracts for All Eligible Bidders: Firms of 62 countries (as against 61 in 2005) were awarded 1120 contracts financed by the Bank Group. Moreover, firms of 67 member countries (47 regional and 20 non-regional) 18 non-regional) participated in the procurement process, which led to the award of 730 contracts for a unit value above UA 50,000 in 2006. The Bank stepped up the organisation of Business Opportunity Seminars for firms of member countries with a view to disseminating information on consultancy services and the supply of goods and works for contracts financed by the Bank Group in member countries. In 2006, ORPU organised in these countries nine (9) Business Opportunity Seminars (BOS) as against eight (8) in 2005. These seminars were on each occasion attended by several participants in both Regional and Non-Regional Member Countries. This is a clear indication of the growing interest consultants, contractors and suppliers in the different member countries have in the Bank's activities.

iii) Participation of Regional Contractors and Suppliers: Contractors and suppliers registered in Regional Member Countries won 85% of the total volume of contracts and 51% of the total value of contracts approved in 2006. In 2005, these values were 80% and 53%, respectively. Generally, firms of Regional Member Countries won more contracts than those of Non-Regional Member Countries, very often on their own territory (particularly in the case of supplies and works, following local competitive bidding or local shopping). The fact remains, however, that regional firms won mainly contracts for small or average amounts, whereas the more substantial contracts went to non-regional firms. On the other hand, several international firms have set up offices in the local African environment, and their operations are considered as regional operations.

iv) Transparency: In 2006, 13 complaints were received and registered by the Bank. All the claims considered (with the exception of one) were deemed inadmissible and rejected. They concern cases based on rumours accusing the executing agencies of irregularities in the evaluation of bids or with regard to the drawing up of short lists, omissions in calls for proposals, etc… For the sole case that was founded, the borrower was asked to resume the bid evaluation process. No case was to be followed up or referred to the Procurement Review Committee (PRC). It is of note that between 2002 and 2006, the Committee received no admissible complaint.

3. Concerning the time-frame for processing procurement documents, the review focused on a larger sample in 2006 (211 cases) than in 2005 (181 cases), and there has been a slight decrease in the average time taken for processing goods and works contracts, from 19.2 months in 2005 to 18.3 months in 2006. The same applies to the average processing time for consultancy service procurement, from 16.3 months in 2005 to 14.5 months in 2006. On the other hand, the average document processing time, having shown a slight increase in 2005, has decreased significantly in 2006, going from an average of 17.5 months in 2004 to 17.8 months in 2005 and finally to 16.4 months in 2006. Pursuant to the steps taken by the Bank, the number of workshops for training in project implementation increased during the 2004-2006 period, while the training of Bank staff was also stepped up during the same period. These measures also covered assistance to the countries in question for procurement capacity building, including joint World Bank and ADB preparation of CPARs (Country Procurement Assessment Reports) as well as the harmonisation of procurement documents at the level of multilateral development aid institutions. The overriding goal remains the proposal to decentralize and delegate authority to regional offices so as to bring the decision–making process closer to borrowers. Finally, in collaboration with the International Harmonisation Programme, in 2004 the Bank started to revise its rules and procedures for the procurement of goods, work and consultancy services so as to facilitate the flow of the procurement process and harmonise the rules and procedures with those of similar Multilateral Development Institutions while taking into account the vital needs of Regional Member Countries. This exercise is nearing completion and the new rules are expected to be adopted in 2007.

1. INTRODUCTION

1.1. The purpose of this twelfth Annual Report of statistics the Procurement of Goods, Works and Services, compiled by PPRU, is to inform Management and Boards of Directors of the Bank's contract award operations, by means of a statistical study for year 2006.

1.2. The report comprises the following key sections: Analysis of procurement methods used by Bank borrowers and the geographic distribution of bidders and that of successful bidders. The study also looks at the breakdown of the contracts awarded by size and procurement method used, the procurement documents processing time-frame, complaints and amendments to contracts approved in 2006.

1.3. The SAP-PMS[1] (Projects Management System) generated the data based on information from the Operations Departments as contracts were being approved.

1.4. This database showed that 1120[2] contracts were approved in 2006, of which 730 were for amounts exceeding UA 50,000. These account for 98% of the total value of contracts or 65% of their number. While the number of contracts approved by the Bank, for the period under review, increased by 22%, rising from 921 in 2005 to 1120 in 2006, their cumulative value also went up by slightly over 7%, from UA 428 million in 2005 to UA 460 million in 2006.

1.5. In many respects, this report analyzes the major trends underlying the award of goods, works and consultancy services by comparing the key variables for 2004, 2005 and 2006, such as the total contract amount and breakdown in the total contract volume by amount, the trend of market share between the regional and non-regional countries and the frequency of use of the various procurement methods.

1.6. For relevance in the comparison of figures, it should be noted that, since 2004, the data used in the preparation of this report has been extracted from the SAP-PMS system in the first week of April. It is also worth mentioning that project officers enter contract data into the SAP-PMS on a daily basis, and therefore the number of contracts entered into the system increases continually throughout the year.

[1] SAP is the integrated data-processing system used by the Bank since 2001.

[2] The statistics which served for drawing up this report were extracted from the SAP-PMS system on 1st April 2007. At that time some contracts already approved and signed in 2006 had still not been incorporated into the system.

2. METHODOLOGY

2.1. The study covers contracts approved in 2006, within the context of Bank-funded projects. However, the overall sample does not take into account amendments to procurement contracts (dealt with separately in paragraph 5.5.) or contracts awarded on non-project loan resources (lines of credit, structural and sector adjustment programmes).

2.2. As in previous reports, the approach used consisted in preparing:

- Statistics based on all 1120 contracts approved in 2006 or procurement data that provided general information on the unit amounts, successful bidders' nationalities and contract source of finance.

- Statistics for the contract award process management (procurement methods, bids, document processing time-frames and claims) prepared from contracts worth more than UA 50,000, for which detailed data concerning the procedure for their award has been obtained.

2.3. An analysis of the data helped to determine the sample size for contracts exceeding UA 50,000 or 730 contracts worth a total of UA 450 million. The value of this sample amounts to 98% of all contracts approved in 2006 and 65% of their number. From 2004 to 2006, individual contracts above UA 50,000 corresponded to at least 98% of the total value of the contracts for the year. They represented between 65% and 70% of the total number of contracts (Table 1).

3. STATISTICS ON THE 2006 PROCUREMENT PERFORMANCE

3.1. Contract Size

3.1.1. The number of contracts (based on information from SAP), increased significantly between 2005 (921 contracts) and 2005 (1120 contracts); the total contract value rose from UA 428 million to 460 million (an increase of slightly over 7%). The average size of the contracts reduced by 12%, from UA 464 683 million in 2005 to UA 410 615 in 2006. In addition, the maximum contract value recorded for 2006 was UA 80.7 million as against UA .13.04 million in 2005

3.1.2. The average size of goods contracts increased significantly in 2006 (from UA 341 957 in 2005 to UA 245.314 in 2006, or a 28% increase). That of works contracts rose slightly from UA 726.166 to UA 769.034 (-6%) while service contracts showed a decrease from 2005 (from UA 256 912 to 207 913). (Table 2).

Total Contracts	574 160	464 863	410 615

3.1.3. Over the past three years, the proportion of small-size contracts (below UA 50 000) has represented about a third of the total number of contracts (30.4% in 2004, 31.94% in 2005 and 34.8% in 2006). For larger contracts, the proportions also remained almost the same as those of the previous years. For all three years, about half the number of contracts were for under UA 100,000 (Table 3 and Graph 1). The largest contract recorded was for an electricity production plant worth UA 80.7 million, obtained by an American firm in Egypt.

3.1.4. Concerning contract value, the level of number of small contracts (below UA 50,000) rose compared to 2005: 2.1% compared to 1.6% in 2005.

3.1.5. From 2004 to 2006, the largest portion of the total contract value was between UA 1-5 million, in the proportions of: 22.5% in 2006, 36.2% in 2005 and 32.1% in 2004 (Table 4 and Graph 2).

3.1.6. From 2004 to 2006, the cumulative distribution of the number of contracts for goods and services were almost identical (Graph 3). In the case of works contracts, the most significant tranches for 2006 were the intermediate tranches with 16% for the UA 50,000-100,000 tranche, 35% for the UA 100,000-250,000 tranche, and 20 for the UA 250,000-500,000 tranche (Graph 4). For service contracts, distribution in number in the various tranches for 2006 was rather close to those for 2005 and 2004 (Graph 5).

3.1.7. The number of contracts remained dominated by goods (39%, 41% and 38% in 2004, 2005 and 2006 respectively), followed by works (33%, 37% and 34%) and lastly, services (28%, 22% and 28%) (Graph 6).

Graph 6

3.1.8. An analysis of the breakdown of the total contract amount by procurement method shows that generally goods and works collectively accounted for between 86% and 88% of the total contract value, from 2004 to 2006. A review of the period suggests that the works contracts amounts predominated in 2004, 2005 and 2006 with 70%, 58% and 63%, respectively. As would be expected, the consultancy contracts were the lowest, accounting respectively for 11% in 2004, 12% in 2005 and 14% in 2006 (Graph 7).

3.2. Contract Distribution between Regional[3] and Non-regional Firms

3.2.1. The distribution of contracts between regional and non-regional firms in 2006 was as follows: 14% of contracts for non-regional firms as against 85% for regional firms, and 0.36% for multinationals[4]. From 2004 to 2006, the regional firms' share of contracts increased steadily, from 77% in 2004 to 80% in 2005 and 85% in 2006. Figures for non-regional firms continue to fall: 23% in 2004, 20% in 2005 and 14% in 2006. The share of multinationals has remained marginal (Table 5 and Graph 8).

Graph 8

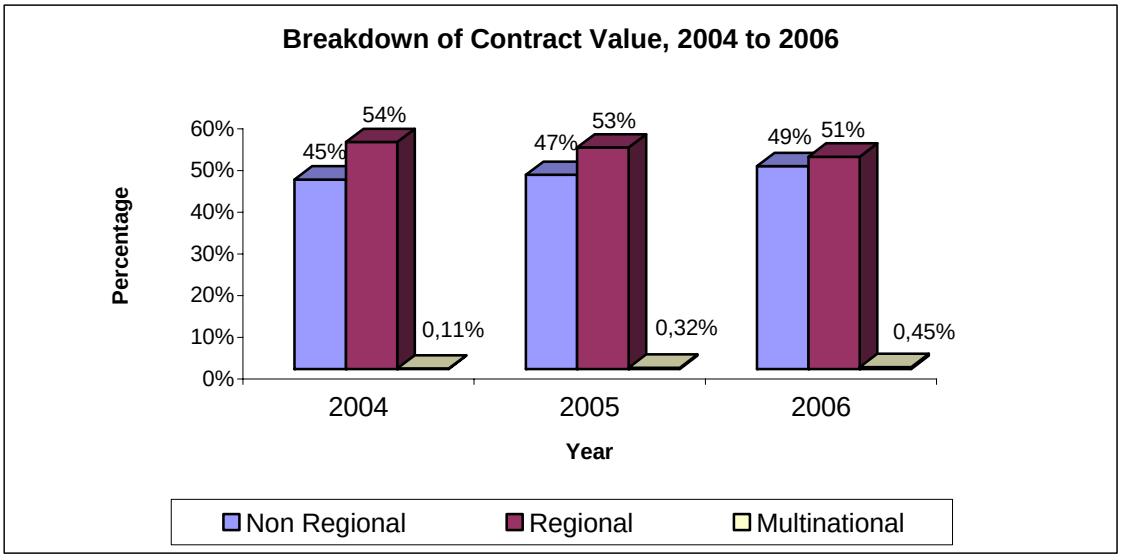

3.2.2. In terms of value, non-regional firms accounted for 49% of the total contract amount as against 51% for regional firms and 0.45% for multinationals. There was a slight drop in the shares of regional firms (from 53% in 2005 to 51% in 2006) and an equivalent rise in the share of non-regional firms (from 47% in 2005 to 49% in 2006). Although the share of multinationals further increased in 2006, it has remained very low (0.45% in 2006 as against 0.32% in 2005) (Table 6 and Graph 9).

[3] A significant number of non-regional companies held shares in regional ones.
[4] The term "multinational" normally refers to UN agencies (IAPSO, UNICEF, etc.)

3.3. Trend of Bank Disbursements[5] from 1995 to 2005[6]

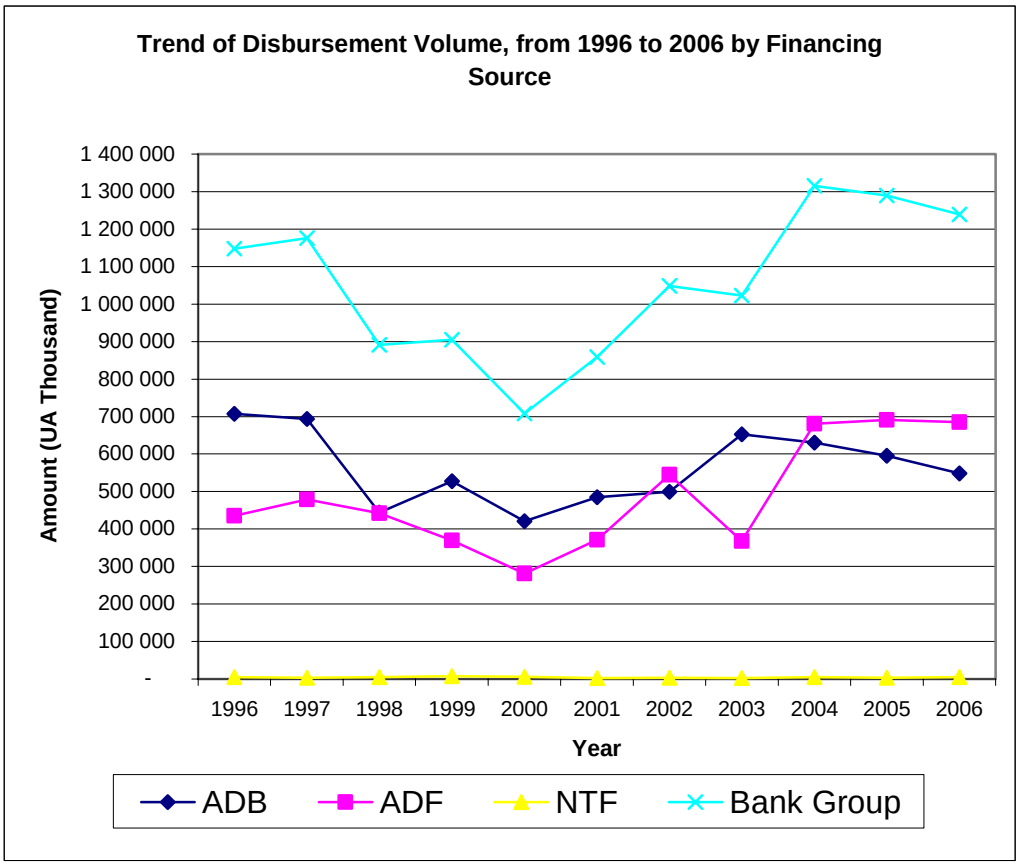

3.3.1. The total volume of Bank Group disbursements declined in 2006, from UA 1 289 million to UA 1 239 million.

3.3.2. This decline reflects the appreciable decrease in the disbursement volume of the ADB window, from UA 595 million to 548 million (or 7.9%), and the slight decrease at the ADF window from UA 691 to UA 685 million (0.9%). Disbursements from the Nigeria Trust Fund (NTF) showed a significant increase, from UA 3.4 million to UA 5.4 million (59% - Graph 10).

[6] There is a marked difference between the amount of contracts awarded in a year and the amount of disbursements made in the same year. Contracts awarded in a given year can be executed over several years and therefore be disbursed over several years.

4. CHARACTERISTICS OF THE PROCUREMENT PROCESS

4.1. Introduction

4.1.1. To ensure that the data processed is relevant, only contracts above UA 50,000 were subject to statistical analysis in this chapter. This sample represents 730 contracts amounting to UA 450 million, or 98% of the total value of contracts awarded in 2006 This contract sample is the subject of this chapter.

4.2. Procurement Methods

4.2.2. In terms of contract amounts, International Competitive Bidding (ICB) was used in awarding 65% of the total contract value for the 2006 financial year; the rate for 2005 was 67%. National Competitive Bidding accounted for 19% of the total contract value in 2006, as against 15% for 2005. Lastly, shortlists represented 10% of the total contract value in 2006 (as against 11% in 2005). These three main procurement methods totalled 96% of the overall value of contracts reviewed in 2006 (as against 93% in 2005), while the remaining 4% covered other procurement methods including 3% of negotiated contracts (Table 8) used for the selection of international consultants and for recruitment of national/regional consultants, with a value of 84.8% (86.5% en 2005), (Graph 12).

[8] Bank regulations require that consultants be recruited on the basis of a shortlist. Some project managers sometimes enter into the SAP, ICB, LIC or NCB as the method of procurement of consultancy services, but in the final analysis shortlists are always drawn up. In this graph, the shortlist method has been used generally.

4.3. Bid Participation [9]

4.3.1. This section deals with the bid amounts[8], number and bid information received. In 2006, 1,728 bids were received for the 1120 contracts approved, or an average of 1.54 bids per contract. The 1,1728 bids were from 906 separate bidders. In 2005, 1,355 bidders participated for 921 contracts (an average of 1.47 bids per contract).

4.3.2. Firms in regional member countries accounted for 82.3% of the bids, while their non-regional counterparts accounted for 17.5%. In terms of value, and in relation to 2005, the share of regional firms went from 78.2% to 40.9%, while that of the ordinary non-regional firms went from 21.7% to 58.9%. The share of multinational bids is still very marginal (Table 10).

In 2005, the leading countries were China (13.6%), Tunisia (9%), and France (8.9%).

4.3.5. Regarding bid value for participation in International Competitive Bidding, the following countries topped the list: The United States (22.4%), Switzerland (11.4%), France (11.3%), China (8.3%), Spain (6.6%) Germany (5.4%) and Morocco (4.6%). (Graph 14). In 2005, the lead countries were: China (21%), Germany (11%), India (9%), France (9%), Tunisia (8%), Morocco (7%) and South Africa (4%).

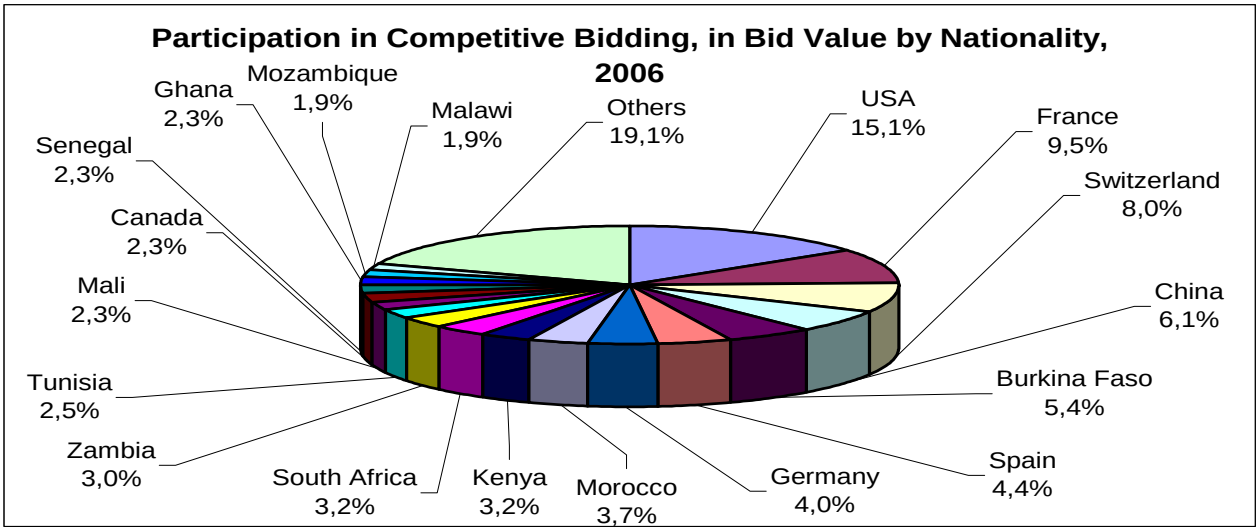

4.3.6. Concerning the bid amounts for National Competitive Bidding, Burkina Faso (12.6%) took the lead, followed by Malawi (92%), Ghana (7.8%) and Cameroon (7.8%) (Graph 15). In 2005, the lead bidders were from: Malawi (20%) followed by Tunisia (also 20%) and Zambia (10%).

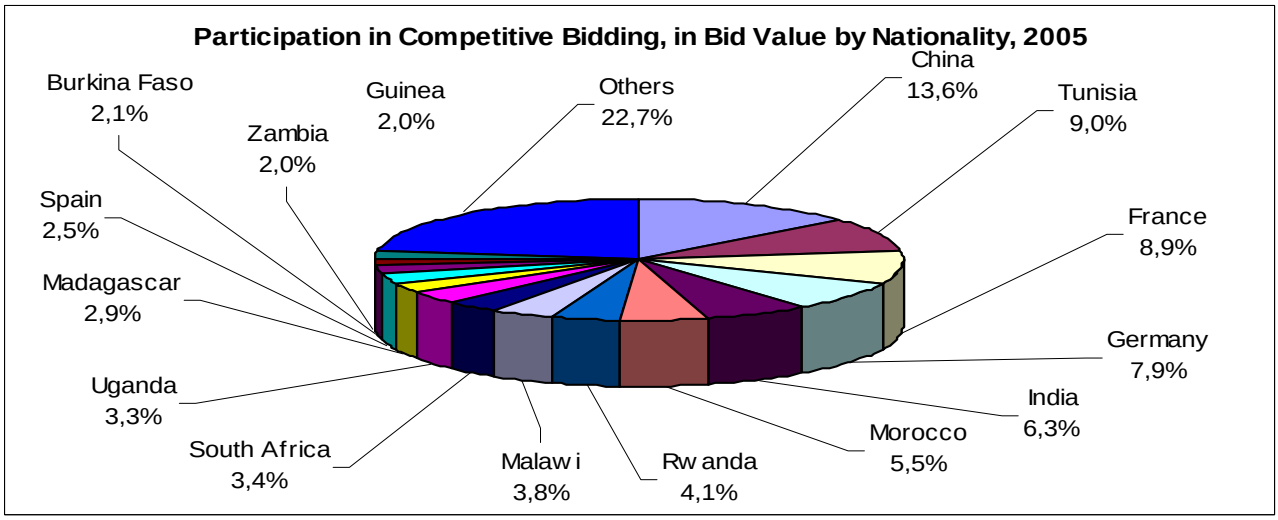

[9] The information on which this analysis is based is incomplete because in a number of cases only the awardees are listed in the project management system, not all bidders in the competition

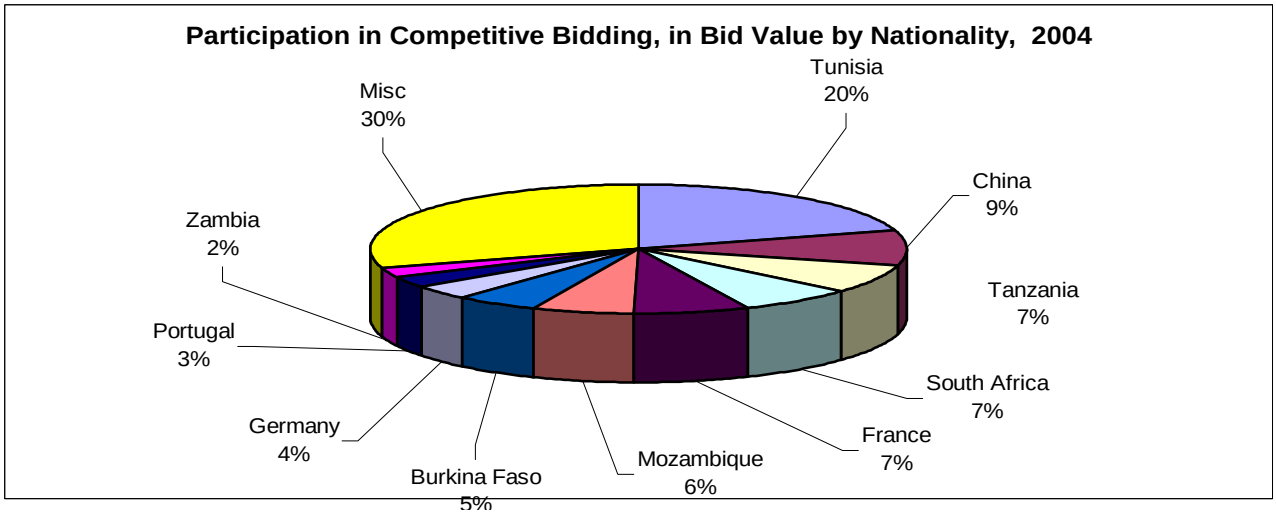

[8] The total bid amount represents the total number of contracts in competition for which the bidders registered in a given country took part in the bidding. This variable is used to calculate the bid value of a country.

4.3.7. With regard to the bid value of contracts awarded through international short-listing, bidders from Canada were in the lead with 23%, followed by French (8,8%), Senegalese (7,8%), South Africans (7,2%) and Ghaneans (7,1%) (Graph 16). In 2005, bidders from France led, with 24% of the bid value, followed by those from Germany (8%), Britain (6%), Switzerland (5%) and Nigeria (5%).

It was followed by TAnzania, with 6.3% of the number of contracts, Burkina Faso (6.2%), France (6.2%) and Ghana (5.5%). Lastly, the Unite States obtained 18.3% of the total contract value as against only 1.1% of the total number.

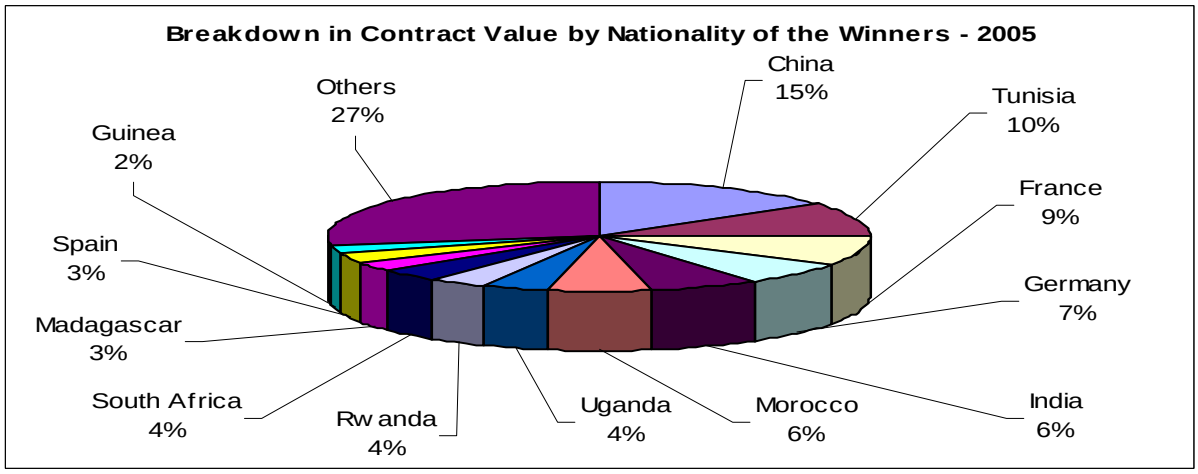

4.4.3. Goods Contracts: Concerning the value of goods contracts in 2006, France topped with 28.8%, followed by Switzerland (13.7%), Germany (10.4%), Spain (9.4%), Kenya 4.6%), Tunisia (3.2%) and Uganda (3%) (Graph 18). In 2005, the leading countries were India (21%), Germany (20%) and France (11%).

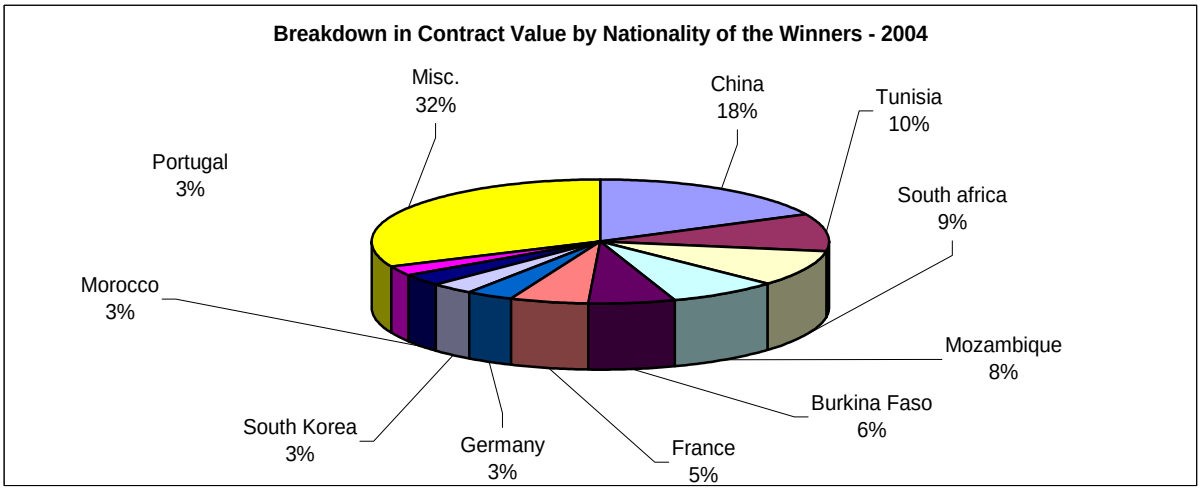

4.4.4. Works Contracts: In terms of works contract amounts, the United States and China are leading with 28% and 11.3% respectively, followed by Burkina Faso (7.7%), Morocco (6.5%), Zambia (5.2%) and South Africa (4.5%) (Graph 19). For 2005, the countries in the lead were China (25%), Tunisia (15%) and Morocco (10.16%).

4.4.5. Consultancy Services Contracts: Consulting firms from Canada, France, Burkina Faso and Senegal won 16.3%, 13.3% and 8.3% and 6.6%, respectively, of the consultancy services contracts in 2006. For 2005, France was in the lead (27%), followed by Germany (8%) and the United Kingdom (6%). (Graph 20).

5. OTHER PROCUREMENT ASPECTS

5.1. Contract Financing

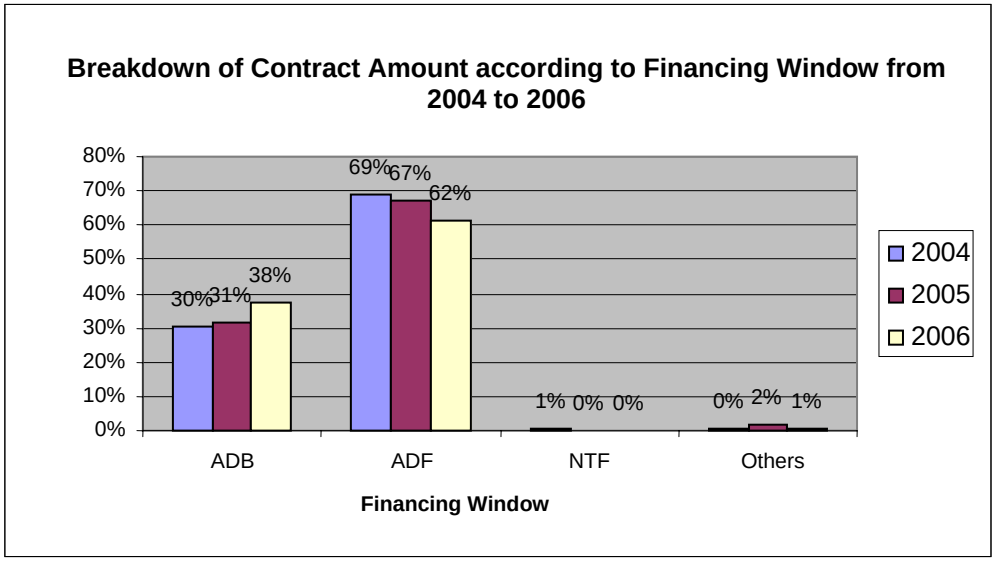

5.1.1. In terms of contract financing, the share of the ADF (African Development Fund) window dropped slightly from 66.9% in 2005 to 61.5% in 2006. The ADB (African Development Bank) window, for its part, went from 30.1% in 2004 to 31.4% in 2005 and finally to 37.6% in 2006. The weight of the NTF (Nigeria Trust Fund) window remains marginal: It financed 0.3% of contract value in 2006, compared to 0.1% in 2005 and 0.7% in 2004.

5.1.2. In terms of number of contracts, the ADB window financed 14.4% in 2006 as against 20.3% in 2005 and 4.5% in 2004. The ADF window accounted for 84.3% in 2006, as against 78.4% in 2005 and 84.6% in 2004. (Table 11 and Graph 22).

5.2. Procurement Document Processing Time-frame

5.2.1. The time-frames for processing procurement documents (in the borrowing countries and by the Bank) were analysed using a sample of 211 contracts in 2006, compared to 181 contracts in 2005, or an increase of 17% in the sampling size. In terms of proportion, the 181 contracts processed in 2005 represented 20% of the annual total while for 2006, the sample of 211 contracts represented 19% of the total number of contracts.

5.2.2. Statistics show that the process of procurement of goods and works by executing agencies for Bank Group-financed projects in 2006 took on average 18.3. months from initial receipt of the procurement documents to receipt of the signed contracts. The average for 2005 was 19.2 months. This general average masks the average variations of the various regions, ranging from a maximum of 24.7 months for the East Region to a minimum of 13.7 months for the South Region. More precisely, it took on average 1.3 months (2.5 months in 2005) between receipt of procurement documents and their approval by the Bank. Between the approval by the Bank and the receipt of bids by borrowers, there was an average time lapse of 6.8 months (4.3 months in 2005). It took an average of 12 days (5 days in 2005) from receipt to opening of bids while from the opening of bids to the approval of contracts it took 6.8 months (7.9 months in 2005), and the time-frame for contract approval to signature was 1.8 months (2.5 months in 2005). Furthermore, the average time-frame between signature of contract by the executing agency and the Bank's receipt of the signed contract was 12 months (1.9 months in 2005) (Table 12).

5.2.3. The procurement of consultancy services by borrowers in 2006 took on average 14.5 months between initial reception of the request for proposals and reception of the final contract by the Bank (Table 13). It was 16.3 months in 2005. This still very long period can be explained in part by the fact that 5.1 months or 35% of the time is lost between the initial opening of bids by borrowers and approval of the evaluation by the Bank. It must be noted that consultancy services require the submission of technical and financial proposals in separate envelopes and that the evaluation is conducted in two stages. In accordance with Article 3.8.11 of the Rules of Procedure for the Use of Consultants, each stage may require Bank approval, which takes time. Measures must be taken by the Operations Department to reduce this time-frame. It varies on average between 8.7 months for the North region to a maximum of 19.6 months for the East region. More specifically, this means it took an average of: 1.1 months for borrowers to obtain approval of the Bank's request for proposals as against 1.3 months for goods and works procurement documents; 5.1 months from the processing of such approved documents and receipt of proposals, as against 6.8 months in the case of goods and works; 15 days between receipt and opening of bids as against 12 days in the case of goods and works; 5.1 months from opening of bids to approval of evaluations, as against 6.8 months in the case of goods and works; 1.8 months between approval of evaluations and signature of contracts (same for goods and works) and 0.8 months from signature of contracts to reception of the signed contracts (1.2 months for goods and works).

5.2.4. For the procurement of goods, works and consultancy services, the average time-frame between receipt of the bidding documents and that of the signed contracts was 16.4 months as against 17.8 months in 2005 and 17.5 months in 2004. The longer period was partly due to time lost between the opening of the bids and finalisation and approval of the evaluations as well as to the fact that the data provided was often incomplete. (Table 14).

5.3. Complaints

5.3.1. In 2005, 13 complaints were registered by the Bank, compared to eighteen (18) in 2005, representing a decrease of 28%. Most bidders have now integrated into their strategy the use of due process systems available under the procedures to notify their grievances. This trend demonstrates the progress achieved in terms of transparency over the past five years, and greater confidence of the participants in the procurement process.

5.3.2. Of the 13 complaints, OSAN received 3, ONAR, OCAR, ONIN, OCSD and OSHD received 2 each Table 15.

5.3.3. The claims examined related to the following aspects:

- Lack of transparency in the bid evaluation process;
- Irregularities committed in the evaluation of bids and/or unjustified disqualification of the bidders by the borrower;
- Fraudulent manoeuvres in the recruitment of service suppliers;
- Inconsistency with the applicable clauses of the Rules of procedure for procurement of goods and services;
- Allegations and complaints based on rumour or wrong information;

5.3.4. Complaints related to projects in 8 countries, with 3 from consultants and consulting firms. For the sectors concerned, 2 related to the water sector, 2 others to the health sector and 1 to infrastructure.

5.3.5. All the complaints examined (except one) were judged inadmissible and were rejected. They were cases based on rumours, alleging irregularities on the part of the executing agencies in the evaluation of bids or in drawing up shortlists, omissions in the calls for proposals, etc…. For the sole case with a legitimate basis, the borrower was requested to re-conduct the bid evaluation process. None of the cases was considered to require monitoring or referral to the Procurement Review Committee (PRC).

5.4. Procurement Review Committee (PRC)

5.4.1. As stated, no cases were referred to the Procurement Review Committee (PRC) in 2006.

5.5. Contract Amendments[10]

Introduction

5.5.1. In 2006, the Bank approved 82 amendments for a total amount of UA 19.6 million (compared with 103 amendments amounting to UA 24.9 million in 2005). These amendments are subdivided into two groups: those for contracts approved in 2006 (4 amendments) and those for contracts approved prior to 2006 (totalling 78).

5.5.2. The highest rate representing the amendment amount as a percentage of the initial contract amount was 113.7%. The corresponding amendment involved an amount of UA 2 707 973 and concerned a contract worth UA 2 381 645. The lowest rate was 0.1%. The corresponding amendment involved UA 833 and was for a contract worth UA 793 812.

Amendments to Contracts Approved in 2006

5.5.3. The 4 amendments to contracts approved in 2006 related to 3 contracts for 3 projects and involved only about 0.36% of the total number of contracts approved in 2006. In terms of absolute value, these 4 amendments represented 0.09% of all contracts approved in 2006 (Table 16).

Other Amendments Approved in 2006

5.5.4. Other amendments approved in 2006, but relating to contracts approved prior to 2006 numbered 78. These amendments amounted to a total of U19.17 million and related to contracts approved between 1994 and 2005.

5.5.5. A study of the size of amendments approved in 2006 and relating to contracts approved before then, shows that 54% of the amendment value was mainly for unit amounts at least higher than UA 1 million, or 6.4% of the total number of amendments. In 2005, 58% of the value was concentrated on unit amounts at least higher than UA 1 million ce qui représente 6,4% du nombre total d'avenants. En 2005, 58% de la valeur était concentrée au niveau d'avenants de montant unitaire au moins supérieure à 1 million UC. The group representing the highest number of amendments for 2006 (29.5%) corresponded to that for amendments valued between UA 100 000 and UA 500 000, which covered only 25.5% of the amendment value (Table 17).

Amendments Approved in 2006 by Contract Type

5.5.7. A review of the breakdown of amendments by contract type shows that those approved in 2006 concerned mainly works contracts: 80.5% of the amendment value and 50% of the number. Services contract amendments accounted for 10.7% of the amendment value and 34.1% of the number. Those for goods contracts represented 8.8% of the value and 15.9% of the number (Table19). In 2005, works totalled 80.2% of the amendment value and 42.7% of their number.

It was followed by the North (35.1%), East (7.8%), West (7.8%) and Centre (3.4%). In 2005, the South recorded the highest value of amendments with 47.5%. Contracts for multinational-type projects registered 9 amendments. (Table 20).
