The positions of Sanctions Commissioner and Alternate Sanctions Commissioner have been held by Lady Justice Fatuma SICHALE and Mr. Sylvain ORE, respectively, since November 2025.

Mr. Sylvain ORE is a citizen of Côte d'Ivoire. A practicing lawyer and member of the Ivorian Bar since 1998, he is currently a partner at the law firm SCPA Oré, Diallo & Associés, where he navigates complex cases spanning business law, contract law, as well as administrative, civil, commercial, and criminal litigation. He has developed expertise in cases involving integrity, compliance, and professional liability, especially within high-stakes legal, ethical, or institutional environments. A former Judge (2010–2021) and a former President of the African Court on Human and Peoples' Rights (2016–2021), Mr. Oré contributed to several landmark rulings relating to procedural safeguards, abuse of power, judicial independence, and the fight against impunity. He also chaired the Court's Administrative and Financial Affairs Committee, with responsibilities that included budget oversight, internal control, and monitoring the integrity of procurement procedures between the judicial institution and private sector entities.

In 2019, he was appointed Chairperson of the Ad Hoc Disciplinary Committee of the Pan-African Parliament, mandated to investigate allegations of corruption, fraud, collusion, and document falsification, following an audit conducted by the African Union's Office of Internal Oversight. The disciplinary sanctions imposed under his leadership were subsequently upheld on appeal by the African Union Administrative Tribunal. Across his career, Mr. Oré's expertise in legal accountability, disciplinary mechanisms, and institutional governance has made him a go-to figure at both national and continental levels.

He is the author of several publications in African and international legal journals, including i) The Right of Minorities to Justice before the African Court (Revue Afrique durable 2030); and ii) Reparations before the African Court on Human and Peoples' Rights. (African Human Rights Yearbook, vol. 3, 2019; Derecho y Economía de la Integración, no. 7, 2019). Mr. Oré holds a Master's degree in Law from the University of Abidjan-Cocody, a Postgraduate Diploma (DESS) in Human Rights jointly awarded by the Center for Research and Action for Peace (CERAP) and the University of Abidjan-Cocody, and a Diploma in Economic, Social and Cultural Rights from the Henry Dunant University College in Geneva.
